MESSAGE FROM THE PRESIDENT

“Every project we carried out, every small act of kindness, and every effort we made to put a smile on someone's face became a reminder of why we do what we do.”

In an era where leadership is often seen as a title rather than a responsibility, I embraced the presidency of the Rotaract Club of the Faculty of Law, University of Colombo not merely as a position, but as a journey of growth, service, and purpose.

From joining as a general member to serving as the Community Service Director, and finally being entrusted with the role of President, this path was not a coincidence, it was a dream I passionately pursued. The transformation I experienced throughout this journey is one I will forever cherish. It wasn't always easy, but it was always worth it. Because when the mission is service, every challenge becomes a stepping stone to something greater.

This year's theme, “We Rise by Lifting Others,” was more than just a phrase, it was the heartbeat of every initiative we took on. Whether through community outreach, educational programs, environmental efforts, or moments of fellowship, we held this motto close and lived by it. We helped each other grow, celebrated each other's strengths, and turned setbacks into opportunities to learn and rise again.

I am deeply grateful for the opportunity to serve alongside a team that constantly strived to bring light into the lives of others. Every project we carried out, every small act of kindness, and every effort we made to put a smile on someone's face became a reminder of why we do what we do. The simple words of “thank you” from those we touched made my days brighter and filled my heart with purpose. Those moments felt like blessings, and even now, I find myself wishing I could have done even more.

Rotaract has taught me more than leadership, it has been my training ground for life. I honed skills in PR, financial management, strategic planning, teamwork, and most importantly, empathy. It showed me that success is not just about completing tasks, but about touching hearts and inspiring action.

Rotaract is not just a club, it's a family. A place where love, unity, trust, and kindness come together to create lifelong memories and impact.

They say, “When life gives you lemons, make lemonade.” But I’d say, make mojito or sorbet too, find your flavor, add your spark, and make the best of the sour. Life is what you make of it, and Rotaract taught me to make it bold, meaningful, and unforgettable.

As I conclude my year, it is emotional, but my heart is full. I know without a doubt that the legacy of the Rotaract Club of the Faculty of Law will live on for generations. I truly hope that our club continues to touch lives, inspire change, and help people in every possible way.

I’m truly grateful to have had a supportive Secretary by my side, along with an exceptional Executive Board who stood strong through every high and low. I must definitely mention the amazing Board of Directors who were the driving force behind the smooth and successful implementation of our projects. Your dedication, passion, and creativity made this year what it was. You all made this journey unforgettable, and I wish each of you continued growth, strength, and success as you shine in the year ahead.

To every member who stepped up, every person who believed in the vision, and every hand that reached out to support, thank you for being part of something greater than ourselves. You are the reason this club is not just functioning, but flourishing.

Here’s to the legacy we’ve built, the lives we’ve touched, and the memories we’ve created. The spirit of the Rotaract Club of Faculty of Law, University of Colombo will always shine through each one of us and I can’t wait to see how high it continues to soar.

Viva La Rotaract!

MESSAGE FROM THE SECRETARY

When I first stepped into university, like many others, I carried with me a mix of anticipation and uncertainty. Leaving behind the familiarity of home, I was stepping into a new chapter. Little did I know that among the countless decisions I would make, joining the Rotaract Club of the Faculty of Law, University of Colombo would become one of the best.

From the very first meeting, Rotaract felt like something different. It wasn’t just a club. It wasn’t just a series of meetings or a line on a CV. It was warmth. It was welcome. It was “a family away from home”, that’s what Rotaract felt like for me. The committee of 2022–23 stood out in particular. Watching them work together, laugh together, and extend their arms to newcomers like myself made something within me resonate deeply. It was in that instance, I realized I wanted to be a part of this journey.

As a first-year member, I wasn’t sure what I could contribute. I was quiet, unsure of myself, and hesitant to speak up. But in Rotaract, every voice mattered. Every idea was welcomed. And slowly, I began to find mine.

Surrounded by a group of passionate, kind, and driven individuals, I felt myself growing in confidence and purpose. We didn’t just serve the community, we grew through service. Every project we undertook became a moment of learning, of connection, and of joy.

Among the many moments I treasure, the project Go Forth, which I initiated back in 2023, holds a special place in my heart. It was built on a simple yet powerful idea, to give young children the tools and confidence to learn English. What started as a community outreach project became a transformative experience for me. Those little ones, bright-eyed and eager, taught me more than I could have ever given in return. Their enthusiasm, their smiles, and their progress were the most heartfelt rewards I could ask for.

Last year, after serving as the English Editor, I stepped into the role of Secretary. It was both an honor and a responsibility. It brought me even closer to the heart of Rotaract.

It meant being the bridge between vision and action, between members and milestones. Through this role, I gained more than leadership skills. I gained clarity, resilience, and a deeper understanding of what it means to serve with heart and intention.

Looking back, it's incredible to realize how much I've changed. From someone who once hesitated to speak in a room full of people, to someone who now embraces opportunities to lead, to inspire, and to support, I owe a large part of that transformation to Rotaract. It nurtured me, challenged me, and ultimately, revealed to me the person I had the potential to become.

But none of this would have been possible without the people. The friendships I've formed in Rotaract are the kind that stay with you long after the projects end and the titles change. We've stood by each other through every success, every challenge, and every late-night planning session. We've laughed until our stomachs hurt, cried when the pressure overwhelmed us, and celebrated even the smallest victories. In a fast changing world, Rotaract gave me a space where belonging was effortless and unconditional.

What makes Rotaract truly special is that while we serve the community, we also serve each other. Every act of kindness, every moment of collaboration, and every shared dream has contributed to something much greater than ourselves. We are not just a club. We are a movement. We are a promise that no matter where life takes us, we carry the spirit of service, empathy, and unity within us.

As I pen this message today, I do so with immense gratitude. Gratitude to the seniors who inspired me. Gratitude to the friends who walked beside me. Gratitude to the people we served and cared for. And above all, gratitude to the Rotaract Club of the Faculty of Law, University of Colombo, for being my second home, for helping me discover my voice, and for giving me memories I will cherish for a lifetime.

Viva La Rotaract Law Faculty!

“WE RISE BY LIFTING OTHERS”

The Rotaract Club of the Faculty of Law, University of Colombo, has always stood out for its compassionate and purpose-driven community services initiatives. For the year 2024–25, we proudly embraced the theme "To Rise by Lifting Others," a powerful reminder that the truest measure of growth and success lies not in individual achievements alone, but in how deeply we impact the lives of those around us.

This theme embodies a simple yet profound truth, that by uplifting others whether through service, kindness, or support, we elevate not only their lives but also our own. In a world that often emphasizes personal gain and self-advancement, this theme calls us back to the roots of human connection. It is a call to serve not for recognition, but for the quiet joy that comes from making a difference.

"To Rise by Lifting Others" speaks directly to the heart of Rotaract's mission. Community service is not just one of the avenues we explore, it is the very foundation of everything we do. Each project we undertook was an opportunity to empower, educate, heal, and support. Whether it's reaching out to underprivileged children through educational programs, organizing mental health awareness initiatives, or conducting sustainability campaigns, our goal was to always bring value to the communities we serve. We believe that true leadership is not about standing above others, but about standing with them.

Throughout this Rotaract year, this theme challenged us to look beyond ourselves. It encouraged us to be mindful of those who are unheard, unseen, and often overlooked. It taught us to become vessels of hope, to recognize the strength in unity, and to never underestimate the power of a helping hand. In that process, we rise, not just as individuals, but as a collective force for good.

CLUB MEMBERSHIP

The Rotaract Club of the Faculty of Law, University of Colombo, conduct both General Meetings and Board Meetings on a monthly basis. These meetings are presided over by the President and the Executive Committee. Board Meetings are mandatory for all board members, with an unwritten rule permitting only three excused absences per year. General Meetings, on the other hand, serve as the main forum for engaging with the broader membership. Attendance at three consecutive General Meetings is a prerequisite for the official induction of prospective members into the club.

Meetings follow a structured format, beginning with formal proceedings. Avenue Directors present detailed updates on their respective avenues. Important matters are discussed, deliberated, and voted on by the board during Board Meetings. Once decisions are finalized, they are formally communicated to the wider membership at the subsequent General Meeting, typically held at the end of each month.

In an effort to foster inclusivity, bilingual General Meetings are conducted to accommodate Sinhala and Tamil speaking members of the faculty. To enhance engagement and build camaraderie, a unique theme was assigned to each month, with members encouraged to dress accordingly. Meetings often concluded with interactive games or activities, further strengthening the bonds among members. These thoughtful approaches led to strong member retention and sustained enthusiasm throughout the year.

As the only tri-lingual faculty of law within Sri Lanka's state university system, our club boasts a membership that reflects the cultural, ethnic, religious, and linguistic diversity of the island.

Aligned with Rotary's Areas of Focus, our members work collaboratively to uphold the rule of law and contribute to building a fair, just, and sustainable society. Each Rotaractor plays a pivotal role in furthering the club's mission, offering their unique strengths and perspectives.

This year, due to the dedicated efforts by the previous year's Executive Committee and Board of Directors, the club regained its standing and visibility, which led to a notable increase in new recruits. The year started with 41 members and throughout the year a total of 32 new members were officially inducted, marking a renewed era of active engagement and community spirit.

To retain existing members and encourage active participation, the Executive Committee introduced several innovative strategies and structural reforms. Several efforts were taken throughout the year to break down language barriers and promote true inclusivity:

- Trilingual Meetings: Beginning with the 2024 induction ceremony, all club meetings and sessions were conducted in Sinhala, Tamil, and English. This ensured every member, regardless of language proficiency, could fully engage and contribute. Important updates and announcements at General Meetings were delivered in both Sinhala and English, ensuring clear communication and broader participation across language groups.
- Project Love Diary: The Love Diary project, conducted throughout the year, fostered emotional expression and inclusivity, attracting widespread engagement through storytelling, music, and performance. This vibrant, creative platform deepened member connection, boosted club visibility, and significantly contributed to retaining and expanding active membership.
- Project Senehase Naagam: Throughout the year, Senehase Naagam fostered strong emotional bonds and consistent engagement, deepening member commitment through meaningful, monthly service experiences.

MEMBERS INDUCTION PROCESS

The induction process of the club is two-fold. Primarily the club initiates one official induction programme per year, through the project 'Lawyer-Up and Newbies Induction'. The project is conducted in the months of March and April, primarily targeting the freshers (first year undergraduates) at the Faculty of Law.

The Lawyer-Up workshop is a session generally facilitated by eminent legal professionals of the field who are also affiliated with the Rotaract and Rotary International. During these sessions, the participants are given an understanding of different areas in the field, and the opportunities that await them. The second part of the session focuses on sharing lived experiences on how Rotaract has influenced the resources persons journey as legal professionals.

The participants who attend the workshop are then given the opportunity to join the Induction program, where they are provided with an introduction to the Rotaract movement as well as the club. The induction program also acts as an orientation program for each avenue of the club. At the end of the program, the participants become prospective members of the club and are added to separate WhatsApp groups, designed for different avenues allowing them to become acquainted with one another and participate in different initiatives organized by the respective avenues.

A Selected group of members are then inducted to the club in the months of April and May as general members based on their engagement and contribution to club activities. In addition to this formal induction process, members are also inducted to the club every quarter on a need basis or on a performance basis.

MISTLETOE EVE

“Christmas isn’t a season. It’s a feeling.” – Edna Ferber

As the gentle chill of December wrapped the city in its wintry embrace, the Rotaract Clubs of the Faculty of Law, University of Colombo, Colombo Mid Town, and the Interact Club of Visakha Vidyalaya came together to host a night that radiated the very essence of the holiday spirit, Mistletoe Eve. This collaborative celebration was more than just an event; it was a symphony of joy, laughter, and heartfelt togetherness, embodying the timeless magic of Christmas.

From the very first moment guests entered the venue, they were swept into a world of festive wonder. A mesmerizing winter wonderland awaited, complete with twinkling fairy lights, intricately crafted wreaths, and garlands that shimmered like stardust. The ambiance was one of warmth, celebration, and joy, a perfect backdrop for making memories that would last a lifetime.

At the heart of Mistletoe Eve were the magical photo experiences, where every frame captured the spirit of the season. Guests flocked to specially themed photo booths, playfully posing with cheerful props against dazzling holiday backdrops. The addition of a 360-degree photo booth elevated the excitement, offering guests cinematic keepsakes that they could treasure forever, a snapshot of Christmas joy in motion.

As the evening unfolded, music took center stage. A dynamic DJ set filled the air with a seamless mix of holiday classics and upbeat anthems, creating a vibrant rhythm that set feet tapping and hearts soaring. Whether guests were dancing beneath the fairy lights or swaying gently to nostalgic tunes, the energy was infectious and uplifting.

No festive gathering is complete without a culinary celebration and Mistletoe Eve delighted every palate. Guests were treated to a sumptuous spread of holiday-themed delicacies: from rich, velvety hot cocoa and spicy gingerbread cookies to warm pastries and savory seasonal bites. Each dish was a flavorful reminder of the comfort and joy that the season brings.

Laughter rang out across the venue as guests enthusiastically engaged in interactive Christmas games and festive challenges. These moments of playful competition brought people together in shared delight, embodying the unity and lightheartedness that define the holiday season.

SENEHASE NAAGAM

“Senehase Naagam” is a heartfelt community outreach initiative dedicated to bringing joy, emotional support, and meaningful companionship to the elderly and children living in care homes. Organized over 11 months and carried out in 11 distinct phases, the project touched lives across generations, bridging age gaps through love, laughter, and shared moments.

Each monthly visit was timed to coincide with tea, lunch, or dinner, offering a warm and familiar setting for interaction. Volunteers engaged residents in a variety of activities, ranging from storytelling, games, and singing to dancing and crafting, while aligning many visits with cultural or festive themes. These efforts were aimed at uplifting spirits, encouraging social interaction, and breaking the monotony of institutional life.

Phase 01: July – Karuna Elders’ Home

The journey began with a visit to Karuna Elders' Care Centre in Boralesgamuwa, where around 10 volunteers shared tea and conversation with 27 residents. Lively sing-alongs and heartfelt stories created a moving experience, revealing the depth of loneliness many elders silently endure. The warmth and gratitude they expressed showed how deeply even small gestures of companionship can resonate.

Phase 02: August – Children’s Home Visit

In August, the project turned its attention to a children’s home. The visit began with icebreaker games and personal introductions, leading to deeper conversations about school, hobbies, and dreams. Older students even sought guidance on exams and university life. Laughter filled the air as volunteers and children danced and played games like “Rahas Kochchiya.” The children’s sincere requests for our return reflected the bond that had quickly formed.

Phase 03: September – World Elders Day Celebration

Returning to Karuna Elders' Home, this visit was timed around World Elders Day. Each elder received a flower bouquet and a handmade card, simple tokens that brought heartfelt smiles and even tears. The evening was filled with songs, stories, and shared joy, reminding everyone of the strength of human connection.

Phase 05: November – Health & Wellness for Elders

This visit, supported by Relovix, focused on enhancing the physical wellbeing of the elders. The sponsor provided ointments and soaps, and a representative offered personalized demonstrations on how to use the items. The session closed with a sing-along and snacks, blending practical care with heartfelt joy.

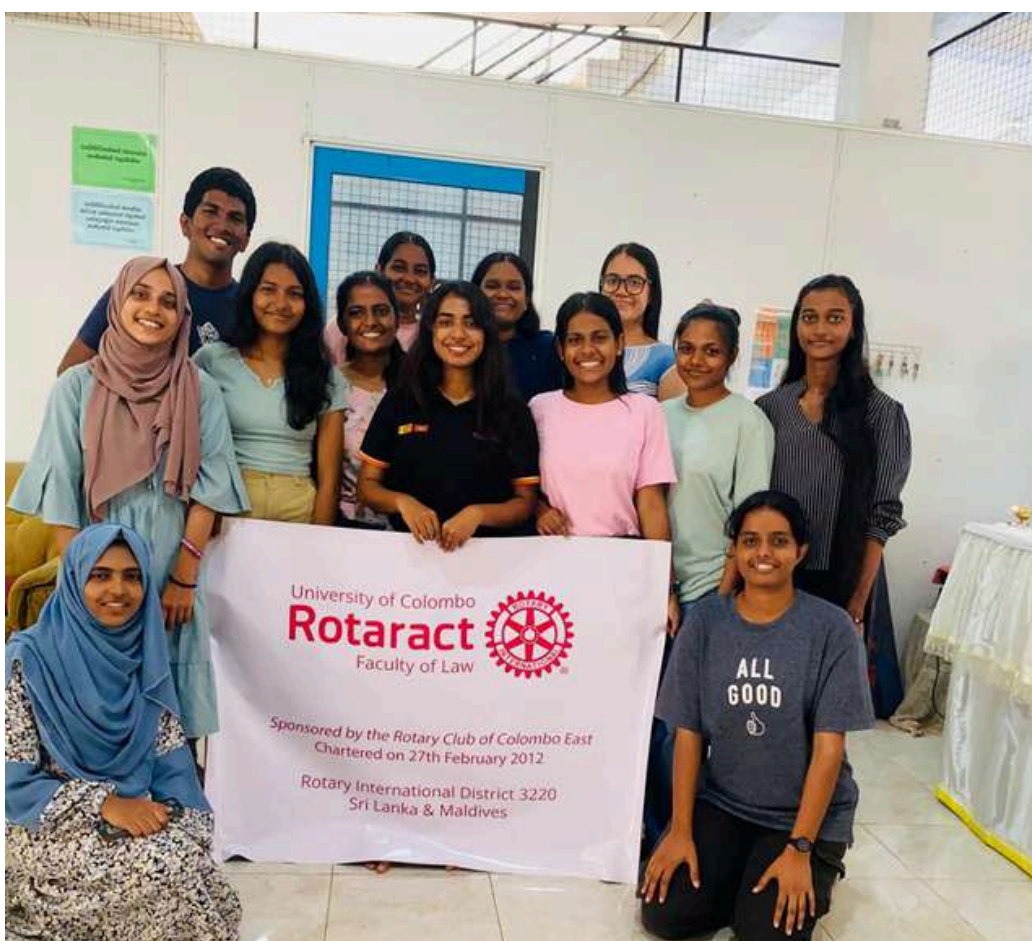

Phase 04: October – Children's Day Celebration

For Children's Day, supported by Wish Fertility Hospital Pvt (Ltd), the team revisited the children's home. Conversations, games, and dancing created a joyful atmosphere. Each child received both essential school supplies and fun gifts, eliciting bright smiles and tight hugs that reaffirmed the emotional impact of this initiative.

Phase 06: December – A Christmas to Remember

Returning for the festive season, volunteers sang carols and served tea, cake, and biscuits to the elders. Through conversations, many residents opened up about their life stories, touching hearts with their wisdom and resilience. The visit brought not just cheer, but a deeper emotional connection between volunteers and residents.

Phase 07: January – Nawodaya Special School

This month introduced volunteers to a new environment: Nawodaya Special School in Moratuwa. Volunteers assisted with classroom activities, led a vibrant painting session, and sang songs with the children. The interaction fostered mutual learning, joy, and a better understanding of the unique needs and strengths of these special children.

Phase 08: February – Familiar Faces and Deeper Bonds

The February visit to Karuna Elders' Home was especially warm. Now familiar, the residents greeted volunteers with open arms. Together, they shared songs and stories that reflected a growing trust and deepening bond. These moments reinforced the significance of continuity and presence in care initiatives.

Phase 09: March – Creativity at Nawodaya

The team returned to Nawodaya Special School, bringing a craft session centered on making paper octopuses. With guidance, the students eagerly participated, developing fine motor skills and expressing themselves artistically. The donation of stationery further supported their learning, making this a fulfilling experience for all.

Phase 11: May – A Visit of Comfort

The final phase was solemn yet powerful. Following the passing of a resident, the volunteers visited the elders not for celebration, but simply to offer comfort. Without games or music, the act of being present in their grief was deeply appreciated. It was a humbling experience that underscored the importance of standing by others, not just in joy, but in sorrow too.

Phase 10: April – Avurudu with Elders

In honor of the Sinhala and Tamil New Year, volunteers hosted a traditional Avurudu celebration at Karuna Elders' Home. A beautifully prepared festive table, songs, and respectful gift-giving created a culturally rich and emotional experience. Many elders expressed how long it had been since they last celebrated the season, a touching reminder of the power of inclusion and tradition.

CLEANUP SL

“Let’s join hands to make our country beautiful, together!”

CleanUp Sri Lanka is a powerful initiative aimed at inspiring environmental responsibility and promoting a culture of sustainability across the nation. With a vision to create a cleaner, greener Sri Lanka for generations to come, the project emphasizes responsible waste management and active community involvement.

Spearheaded by Shraddha TV, the primary organizer and PR partner, the initiative is driven by strategic planning, comprehensive logistics, and widespread volunteer coordination. In addition to organizing on-ground activities, Shraddha TV also leads media outreach and awareness campaigns to maximize community participation and impact.

This year, the Rotaract Club of the Faculty of Law, University of Colombo, took part in the initiative on September 28, 2024, targeting the floating market area in Pettah, a bustling locale known for its cultural vibrancy. A dedicated team of 11 volunteers came together from 8 a.m. to 11 a.m., working with enthusiasm and determination to clear the area of accumulated waste. From discarded plastic and food wrappers to larger debris, our team diligently collected and sorted the litter, transforming the environment into a cleaner and more welcoming space.

Following the cleanup, all waste was responsibly handed over to the Colombo Municipal Council via their disposal lorry, ensuring proper management and eco-conscious practices.

Beyond beautifying a beloved community space, the project served as a meaningful experience that fostered teamwork, social responsibility, and environmental awareness. CleanUp Sri Lanka reminded us that small collective actions can spark big changes, and by working together, we can pave the way toward a cleaner, more sustainable future for all Sri Lankans.

RedAid was a compassionate and impactful blood donation campaign jointly organized by the Rotaract Club of Colombo Metropolitan and the Rotaract Club of the Faculty of Law, University of Colombo. Held on the 8th of November at the Central Blood Bank, Narahenpita, from 8:00 AM to 12:00 PM, this initiative was dedicated to promoting the lifesaving power of voluntary blood donation while reinforcing the spirit of community service among young individuals.

In response to the pressing and continuous demand for safe blood supplies in Sri Lanka, RedAid served as a beacon of hope and solidarity. The campaign brought together a diverse group of participants, Rotaractors, university students, and members of the public, all united by a shared goal: to save lives through a simple, selfless act. By fostering awareness about the critical role of blood donation, the project encouraged a culture of giving and health-conscious citizenship

The event was conducted in a well-coordinated, welcoming, and hygienic environment, ensuring that all donors felt comfortable and appreciated throughout the process. Volunteers and organizers worked hand in hand to facilitate smooth registration, guide participants, and offer support and gratitude to each donor. Informational posters and social media outreach helped educate attendees on the science and significance of blood donation, dispelling myths and encouraging regular participation in such life-saving acts.

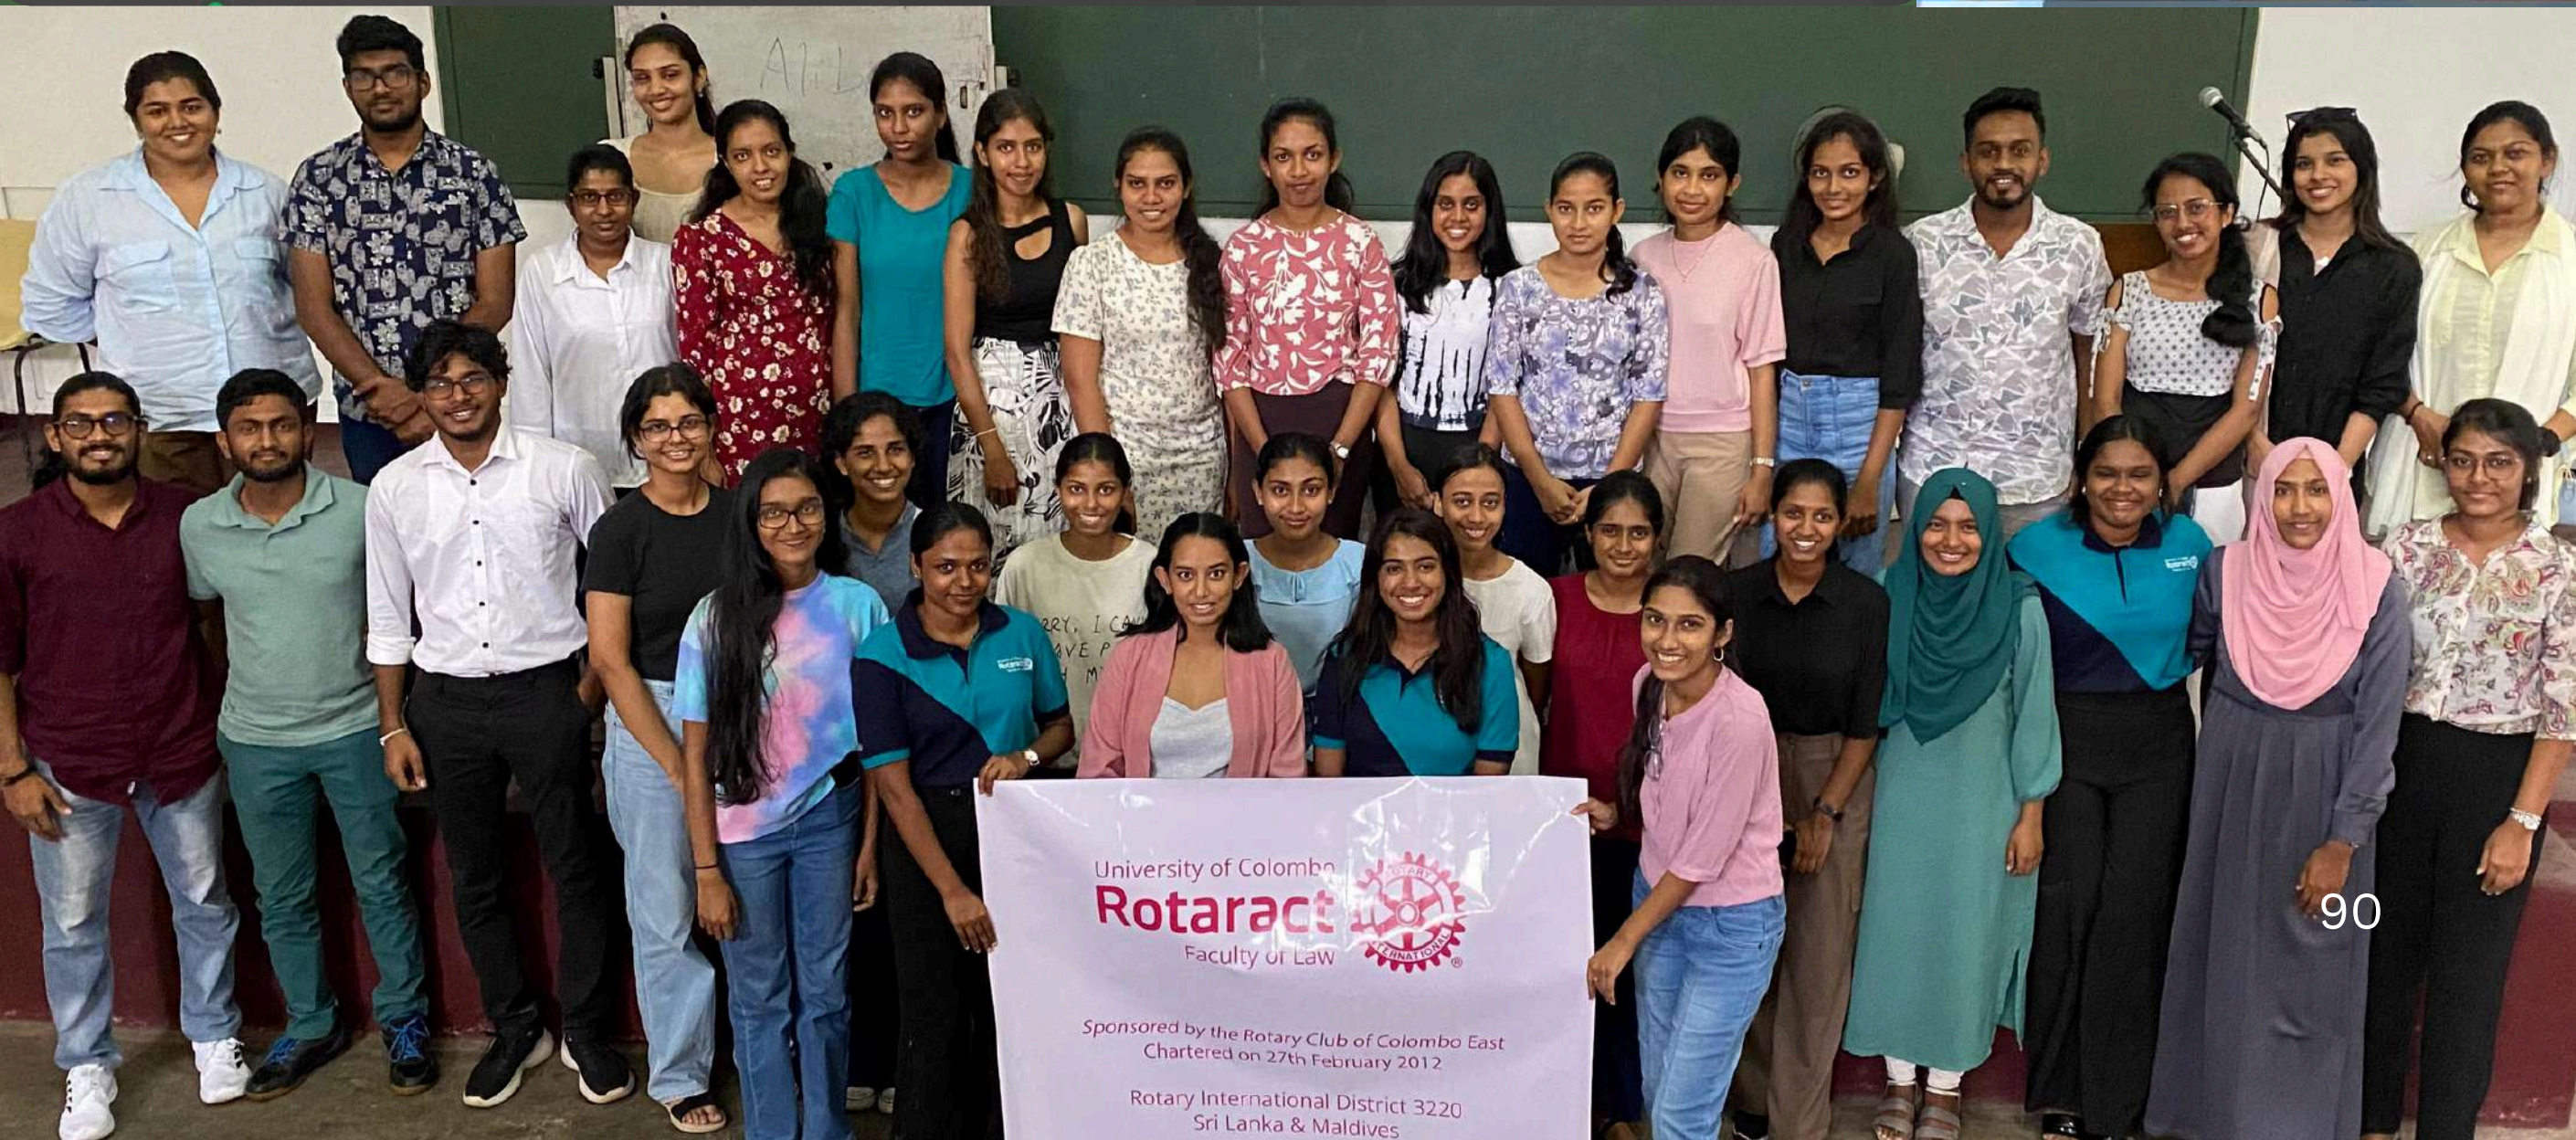

Carrying the powerful message “Donate blood, save lives,” RedAid was more than just a donation drive, it was a celebration of humanity and empathy. It served as a reminder that even the smallest contributions can have a profound impact, especially when driven by a collective sense of purpose. Through this project, both clubs demonstrated their unwavering commitment to social responsibility, health advocacy, and meaningful service, leaving behind a legacy of compassion and empowerment.

NEVER ALONE

Never Alone is a heartfelt and impactful suicide prevention initiative organized by the Rotaract Club of the Faculty of Law, University of Colombo, in collaboration with the Rotaract Club of Cinnamon Gardens. This project was conceived with the aim of raising awareness about mental health, breaking the silence around suicide, and building a community rooted in empathy, understanding, and support. Recognizing the pressing need to address mental health issues among youth, the initiative focused on promoting open conversations and reducing the stigma that often surrounds these deeply personal struggles.

The project unfolded in two distinct but complementary phases: a digital awareness campaign and a physical awareness session. The first phase leveraged the power of social media and digital storytelling to engage students in meaningful dialogue. Through a dedicated section on the club’s website, the project featured a wide range of creative content, impactful blog articles, heartfelt poetry, emotional artwork, and short videos, that conveyed powerful messages about mental well-being. The campaign also invited the public to submit their own personal stories via a Google Form, offering a platform for individuals to share their experiences with mental health challenges and healing.

The second phase of "Never Alone" was an in-person awareness session, designed to educate and empower students with tools to support their mental health. Conducted by a certified professional psychologist, the session was attended by 40 members from both Rotaract clubs. It focused on essential topics such as managing stress, recognizing signs of emotional distress, and strategies for suicide prevention. The session provided a safe and inclusive space for open dialogue, allowing participants to ask questions, share insights, and reflect on their own experiences.

Ultimately, "Never Alone" was more than just a project, it was a compassionate call to action. It laid the foundation for a stronger, more empathetic community, where every individual knows that they are never truly alone.

Project Wings is a heartfelt community service initiative spearheaded by the Rotaract Club, with a mission to uplift and support children with special needs, particularly those with Down syndrome. It is built on the pillars of education, inclusivity, and empowerment, aiming not only to meet the immediate needs of these children but also to nurture their long-term growth and well-being. Through a carefully curated two-phase approach, Project Wings sought to bridge the gaps in societal awareness and foster a more inclusive community.

The first phase, held from October 13th to 28th, took the form of a dynamic digital awareness campaign across platforms such as Instagram and Facebook. The focus was on dispelling myths and misconceptions surrounding Down syndrome, while celebrating the achievements of individuals who have thrived despite the challenges. The campaign featured informative social media posts, an insightful video series with expert contributions from Dr. Nadun Karunathilake, and an educational blog article. These resources offered medical and psychological insights into Down syndrome.

The second phase transitioned from digital to hands-on engagement, through a visit to the Nawodaya Special Needs School in Moratuwa. This phase focused on direct interaction and support, bringing together Rotaract members and approximately 30 children in a day filled with love, laughter, and learning. The team conducted a vibrant session filled with interactive games, drawing, singing, dancing, and storytelling, each designed to bring out the unique talents of the children and build their self-confidence. The session created a space where children could express themselves freely, connect emotionally, and enjoy moments of joy and recognition.

A financial donation of Rs.15,000 was also made to support the center's ongoing operations and the children's developmental needs, further cementing the club's commitment to long-term impact. This visit was not just an act of service, but a powerful exchange of warmth and humanity that left a lasting impression on both the children and the volunteers.

"Giving Hope to the Younger Generation"

The "Go Forth 2.0" initiative, conducted for the second consecutive year by the Rotaract Club, was designed to uplift and empower primary school students (Grades 1–5) in rural areas by nurturing their confidence and interest in the English language from an early age. Recognizing the importance of English as a bridge to global opportunities, the project aimed to break down barriers caused by limited educational resources, minimal exposure, and a lack of student engagement in these communities.

The project unfolded across three thoughtfully planned phases, each addressing a crucial element of sustainable English education: A student engagement session, a teacher training session and finally a resource donation session.

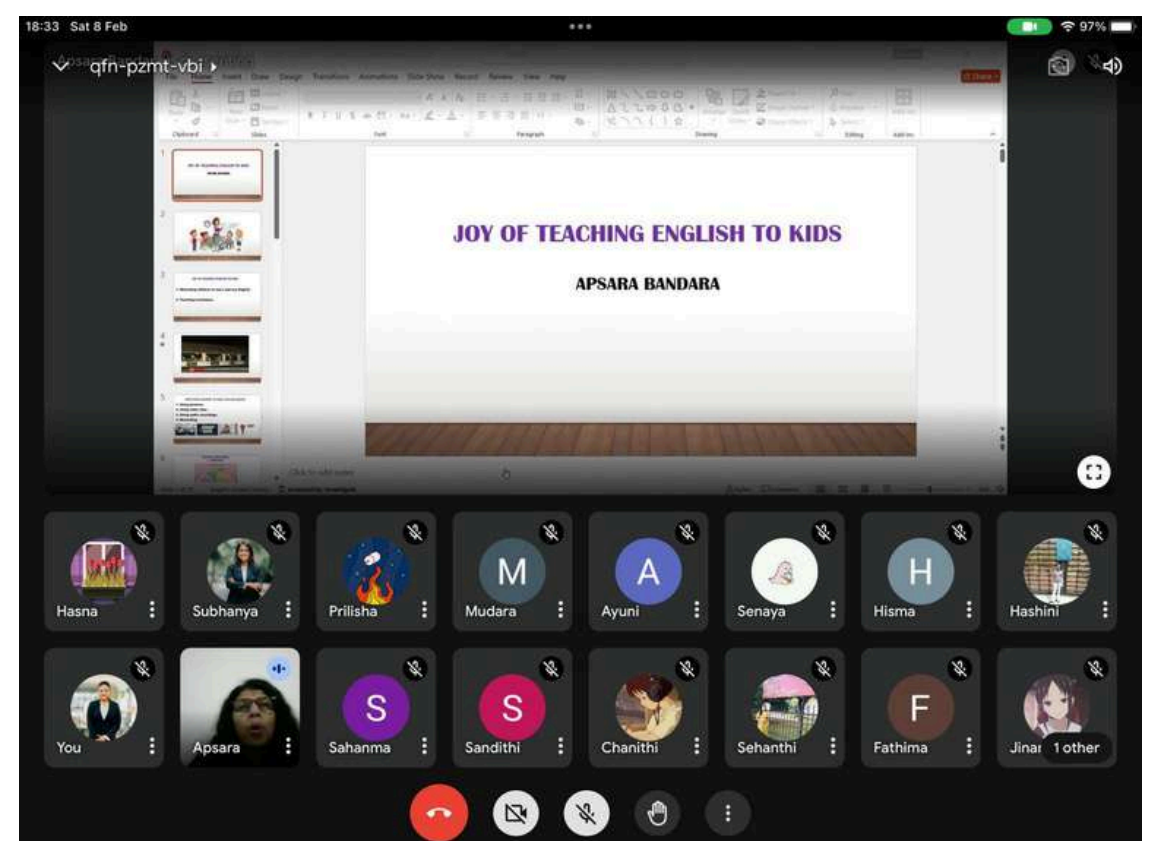

Phase 01 – Student Engagement Session:

The team personally visited a selected rural school and conducted a lively and interactive session tailored to young learners. By incorporating fun, educational games, and hands-on activities, the session transformed English learning into an exciting adventure. The goal was to spark curiosity, encourage participation, and help children view English not as a challenge, but as a new and enjoyable way to express themselves.

Phase 02 – Teacher Training Session:

Sustainability was a key priority. To ensure the positive impact of the project extended beyond a single day, the team facilitated a virtual teacher training session via Google Meet. This session was led by a lecturer from the Department of English at the University of Colombo, who shared innovative teaching techniques specifically designed for early learners. Teachers were equipped with strategies to create interactive classrooms, build student confidence, and deliver engaging English lessons using limited resources.

Phase 03 – Resource Donation:

To complement both student and teacher efforts, the final phase involved the donation of English activity books and storybooks. Carefully selected to be age-appropriate and pedagogically valuable, these resources were meant to foster reading habits, boost language acquisition, and serve as a practical toolkit for teachers striving to make their English lessons more captivating and effective.

At its core, Go Forth 2.0 represents a commitment to educational equity. By laying strong foundational skills in English and supporting both students and educators, the project empowers children from underprivileged regions to engage more confidently in a world where language can be a powerful tool for connection, opportunity, and personal growth. Through early intervention, meaningful engagement, and resource support, the initiative strives to open doors and give these young learners a brighter path forward, reminding them that no dream is too far when given the right tools to chase it.

LEGAL UPDATE 2.0

The Legal Update Project, organized for the third consecutive year, by the Rotaract Club, was a three-phase initiative designed to raise public legal awareness and provide crucial guidance on pressing legal and social issues. Like the previous year, the club worked in collaboration with the Rotaract Club of University of Peradeniya to organize phase 2 of the project. Through a combination of informative content and expert-led discussions, the project aimed to bridge the gap between legal knowledge and the everyday realities faced by individuals in Sri Lanka, particularly in relation to human rights, personal safety, and access to justice.

Phase 01 – Informative Blog Series

The first phase of the project centered on the publication of a series of insightful blog articles, strategically shared across social media platforms. These articles explored critical legal topics including marine pollution, human rights, the right to information in Sri Lanka, marital rape, and freedom of expression, all of which are highly relevant to current national and global discourse.

To ensure inclusivity and accessibility, each article was published in English, Sinhala, and Tamil, allowing the content to reach a broad and diverse audience. This multilingual approach played a vital role in democratizing legal knowledge and promoting civic awareness across linguistic and cultural boundaries.

By providing well-researched, clear, and digestible legal content, the blog series successfully empowered individuals with a better understanding of their rights and responsibilities. This phase not only laid the foundation for legal literacy but also encouraged meaningful dialogue and awareness within the wider community.

Phase Two: Collaboration with Rotaract Club of University of Peradeniya

In its pivotal second phase, Legal Update formed a significant collaboration with the Rotaract Club of the University of Peradeniya. This partnership amplified the project's impact by merging resources, expertise, and dedication to create transformative change. The collaborative effort identified Peradeniya Central College in Peradeniya as the focal point for this phase, strategically positioning legal awareness workshops on social media and law of piracy within the school's premises.

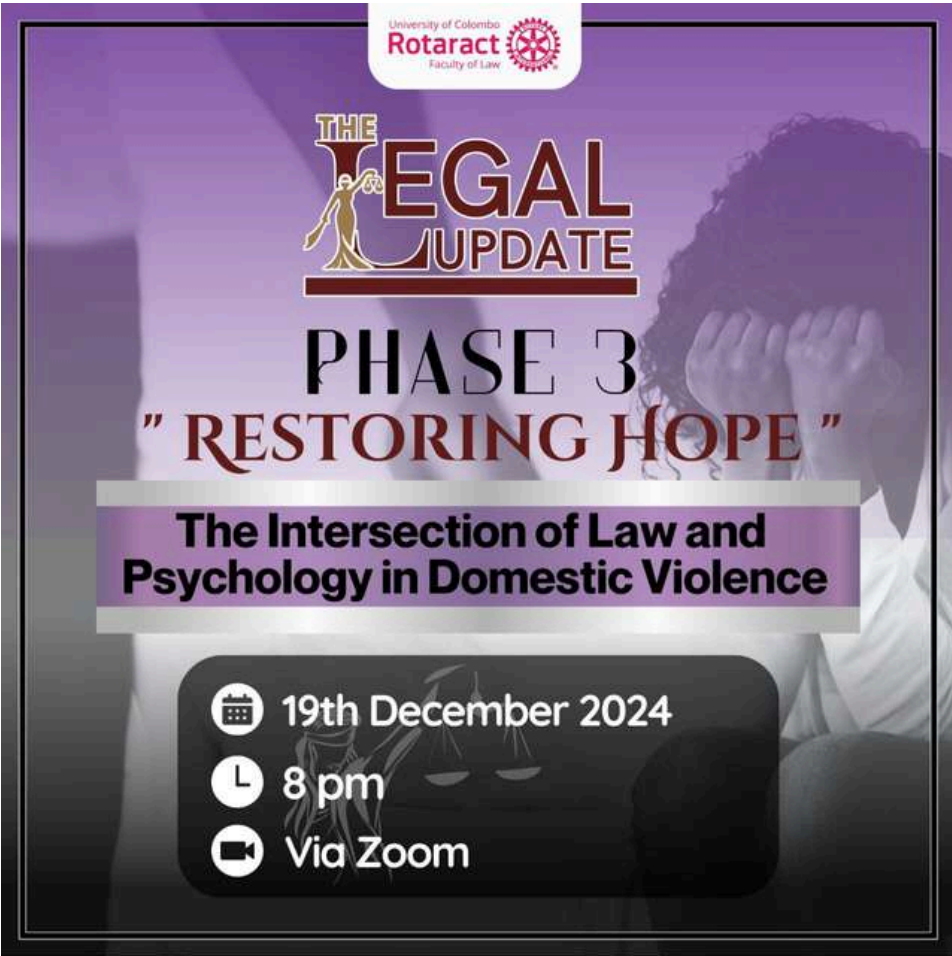

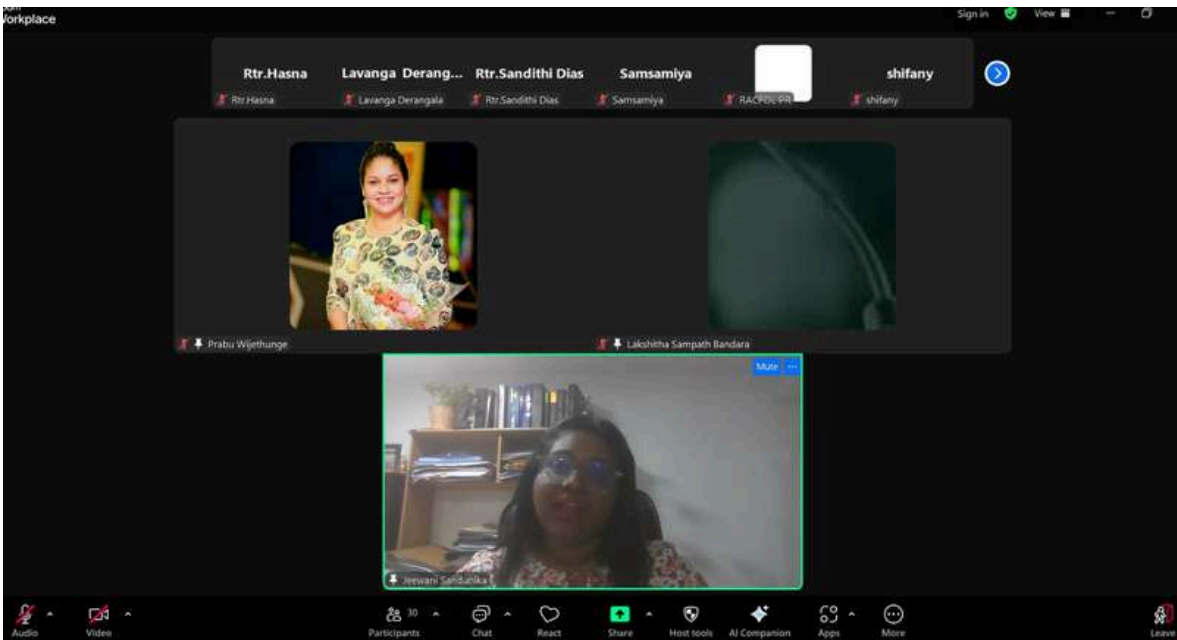

This collaboration directly supported Rotary’s focus areas, particularly in promoting peace and conflict resolution and advancing basic education and literacy. The interactive workshops, engaging discussions, and practical exercises conducted at Peradeniya Central College empowered students to understand the importance of privacy when it comes to handling oneself in the social media. Through this collaboration, Legal Update not only elevated the educational experience for students but also left a lasting impact on the broader community.

Phase 03 – Legal Advice Webinar Series

The third phase introduced a live, interactive Legal Advice Series held via Zoom. This two-hour session focused on the critical and sensitive issue of domestic violence, specifically targeting married individuals who may be facing abuse and seeking support.

The webinar featured two distinguished speakers: a professional psychologist, who addressed the emotional and mental health aspects of domestic violence, and an experienced lawyer, who offered legal guidance and outlined available legal remedies and protective mechanisms.

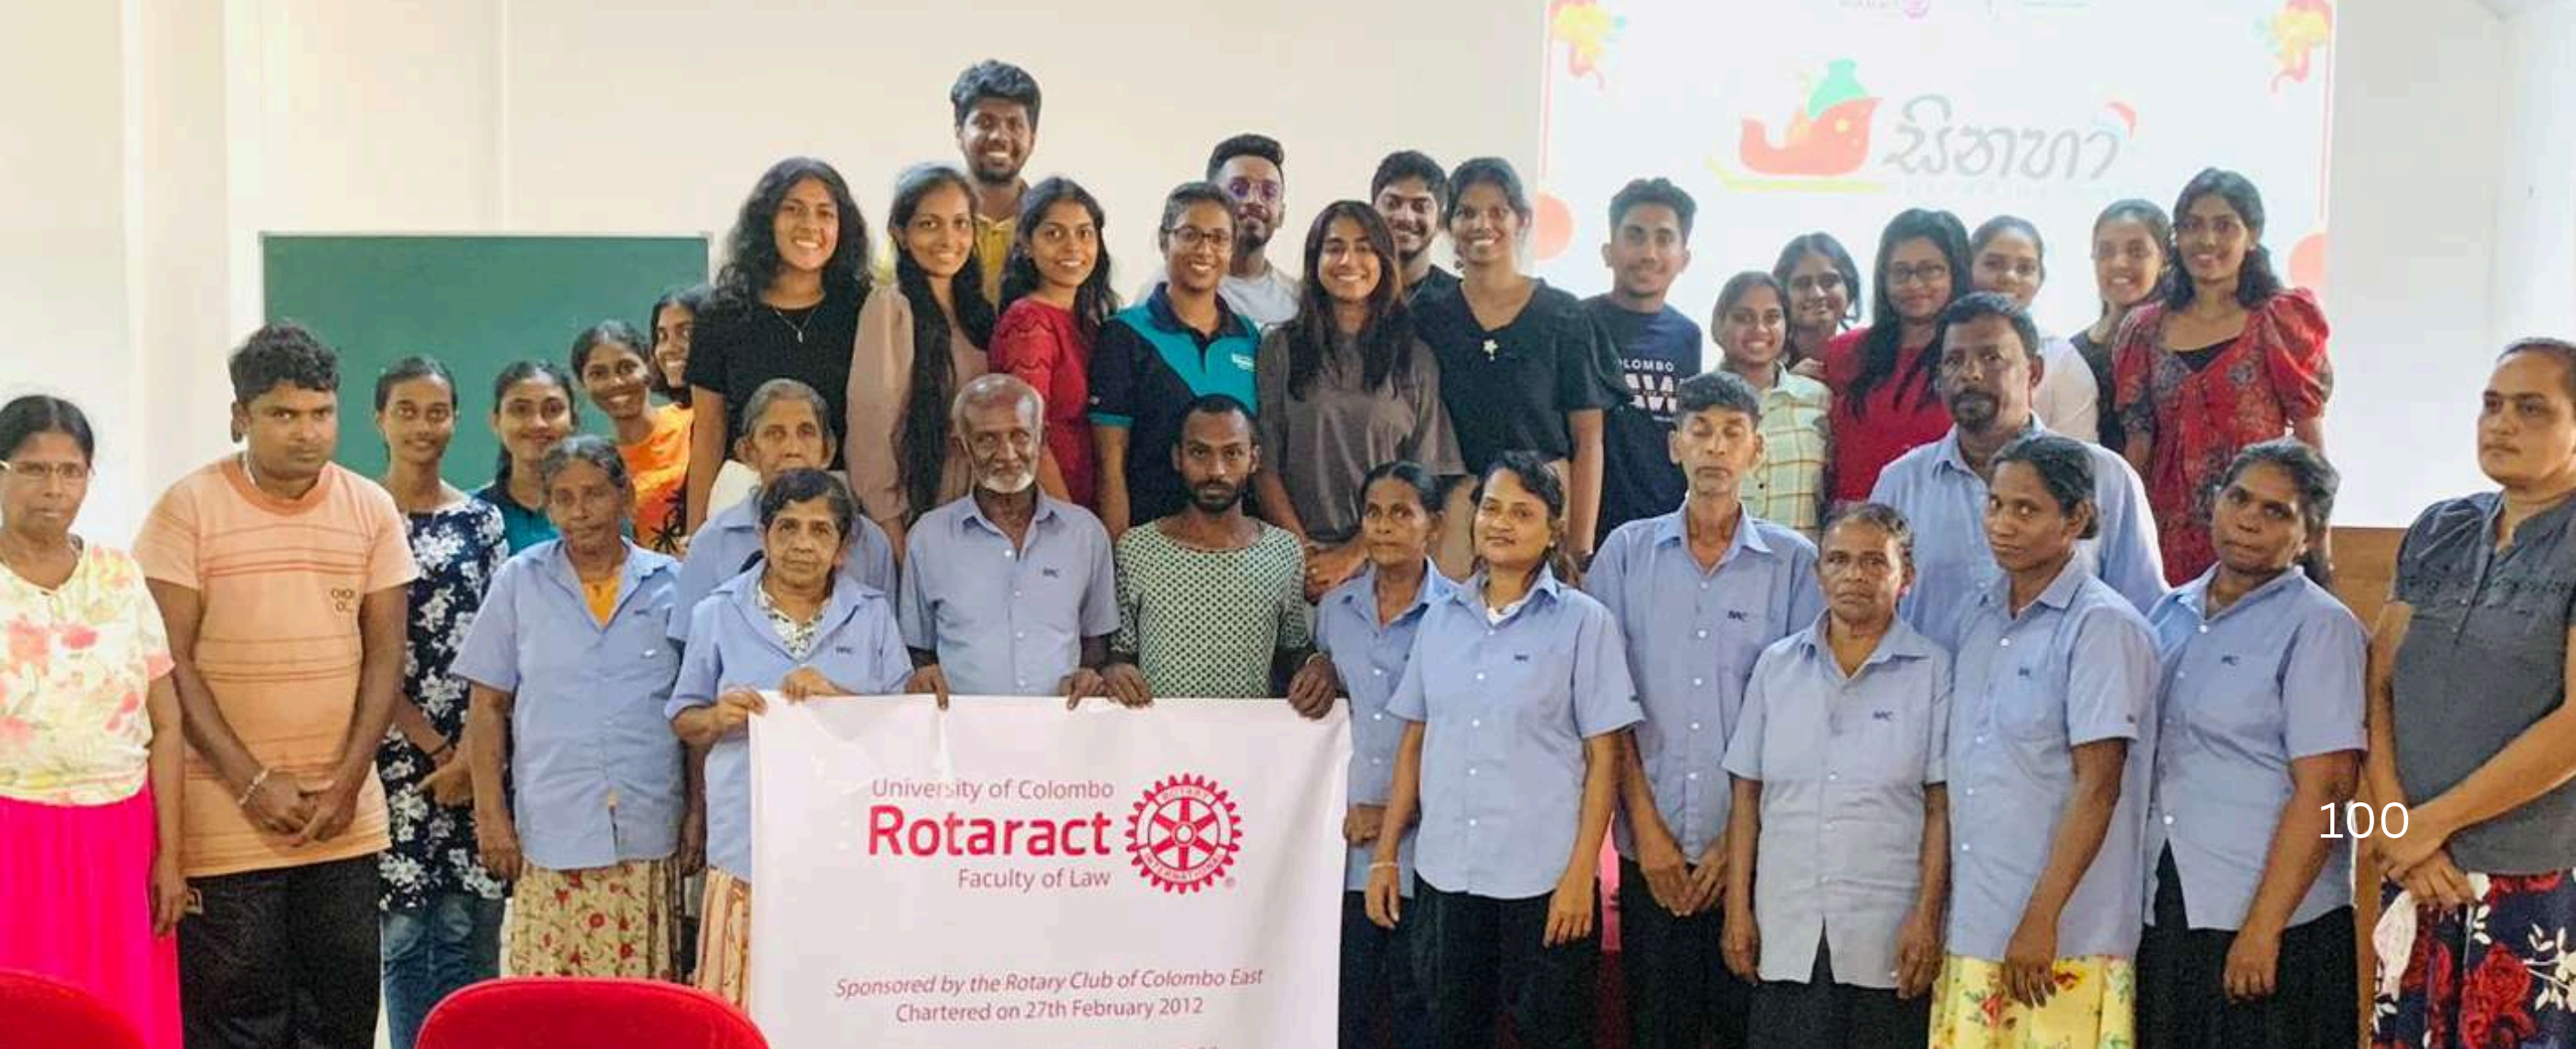

The session provided a safe and confidential platform for attendees to voice concerns, ask questions, and receive actionable advice, thereby promoting both healing and empowerment.

The “Sinaha” project was a heartwarming initiative organized by the Rotaract Club of the Faculty of Law, University of Colombo, in collaboration with the Catholic Student Movement (CSM) of the university. Held during the Christmas season, the project aimed to bring festive cheer and appreciation to a group of individuals who are often overlooked, the sanitary facilitators and cleaning staff of the Faculty of Law. These individuals play an essential yet underappreciated role in maintaining a clean, healthy, and welcoming environment for all. Through this initiative, we sought to recognize their silent yet impactful contributions, express our heartfelt gratitude, and make them feel valued members of the university community.

The Sinaha celebration was held on December 10, 2024, at Ceylon Hall, Faculty of Law, beginning at 10:30 a.m. The event opened with a prayer led by a CSM member, setting a heartfelt and reverent tone. This was followed by welcome speeches from the Presidents of the Rotaract Club and CSM, who highlighted the significance of the event and the spirit of service behind it.

A lively game session was organized for the cleaning staff, bringing smiles and laughter to everyone present. The winners received prizes, and shortly after, a talent segment allowed the staff to share their own hidden talents, creating a truly interactive and inclusive atmosphere.

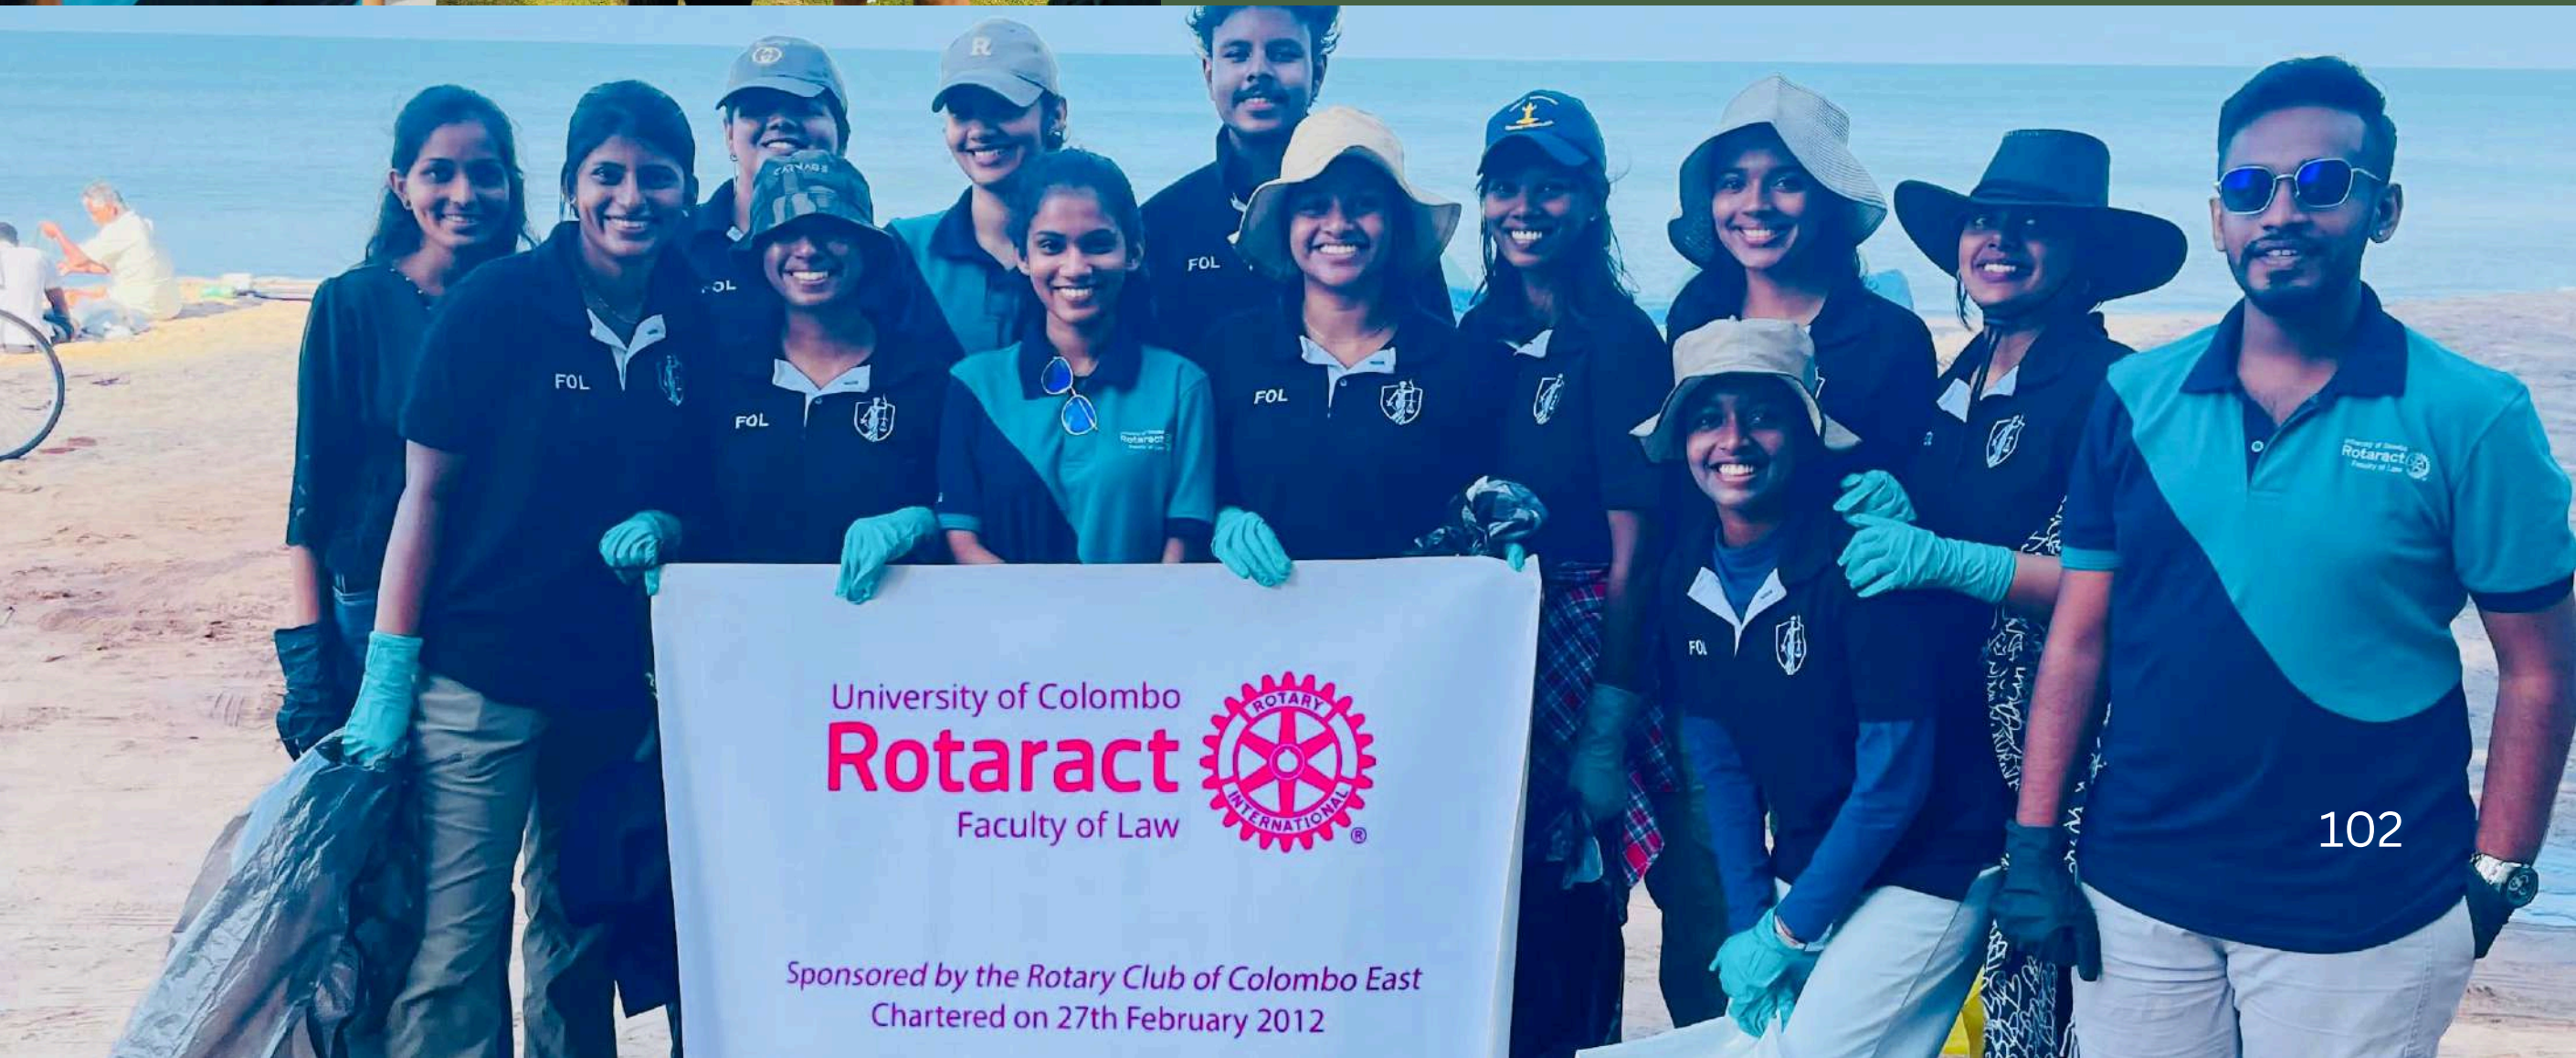

The event continued with a Carol Service performed by the CSM, adding a musical and festive flair that deeply moved the audience. The highlight of the day came when the Dean of the Faculty of Law addressed the gathering and personally distributed Christmas hampers to the support staff, accompanied by warm words of appreciation. The event concluded at 12:30 p.m. with a vote of thanks delivered by the Vice President of CSM, marking the successful completion of a truly meaningful celebration.

"Together for Cleaner Shores and Thriving Marine Life!"

Cascade was a dynamic, environmentally-driven initiative organized with the mission of preserving and restoring Sri Lanka's coastal beauty, while raising awareness on the importance of sustainable practices. Going far beyond a typical beach cleanup, the project emphasized environmental stewardship, sustainable tourism, and community collaboration, making it a comprehensive effort. Negombo Beach, a famous tourist destination in Sri Lanka.

Held on 8th December 2024, the project brought together 15 dedicated Rotaract members who worked hand in hand not only with one another but also with foreigners and tourists visiting the beach. This unique collaboration was a highlight of the initiative, as it transformed the cleanup into a cross-cultural, community-led experience. Tourists who were initially bystanders soon became active participants, joining forces with club members to remove litter, segregate waste, and promote environmentally responsible behavior. The shared commitment to a cleaner planet bridged cultural boundaries and created a powerful sense of global unity.

Cascade's impact was amplified through an innovative component, the introduction of eco-friendly key tags. These sustainably made keepsakes were distributed to volunteers and tourists who took part in the cleanup. Not only did they serve as tokens of appreciation, but also as symbols of environmental responsibility, with proceeds directed toward future sustainability efforts. The key tags sparked conversation, raised awareness, and encouraged ongoing advocacy, long after the event had concluded.

By actively engaging both local Rotaractors and international visitors, Cascade succeeded in cultivating a culture of sustainability and shared responsibility.

- Rotary Focus Area: Economic and Community Development

This heartfelt community service initiative, organized by the Rotaract Club of the Faculty of Law, University of Colombo, was rooted in a profound mission: to create sustainable, meaningful change in the lives of underprivileged communities across Sri Lanka. Guided by the club's visionary motto, "Unity in Service, Change in Action," the project sought to bridge awareness with direct impact, bringing light to the realities of poverty while offering practical support and hope to those in need.

The initiative unfolded in two thoughtfully crafted phases, each contributing to the broader objective of social upliftment through empathy, education, and action.

Phase One: Awareness Through Education

The first phase centered on raising awareness of the deeply entrenched issues of poverty through a strategic social media campaign. This digital outreach featured compelling statistics, insightful blog articles, and educational content curated to spark dialogue and reflection. More than just informative, the campaign aimed to ignite a sense of responsibility and urgency urging individuals to understand the systemic roots of poverty and to see themselves as agents of change. By making complex socio-economic issues accessible and engaging, the campaign fostered a wider culture of empathy, empowerment, and collective action.

Phase Two: Direct Outreach and Sustainable Impact

Transitioning from awareness to action, the second phase of the project focused on providing tangible assistance to marginalized families in the rural village of Liyankanda, Mathugama. With compassion at its core, the club distributed carefully curated dry ration hampers, including essentials such as rice, dhal, sugar, salt, biscuits, tea leaves, and Panadol cards, to 10 selected families. These items were chosen to address both nutritional and health-related needs, alleviating immediate hardships and bringing relief to those struggling with day-to-day survival.

Beyond food aid, the club also donated second-hand clothing, offering comfort, dignity, and a renewed sense of belonging to recipients who often go without. This shift from charity to capacity-building reflects the project's deep commitment to lasting transformation rather than temporary relief.

MAATHA 7.0

Now in its seventh consecutive year, Project MAATHA has grown into a powerful symbol of empathy, support, and advocacy for underprivileged pregnant mothers in Sri Lanka. Spearheaded by the Rotaract Club of the Faculty of Law, University of Colombo, the initiative has consistently addressed the emotional, physical, and psychological needs of mothers, laying the groundwork for healthier families and stronger communities.

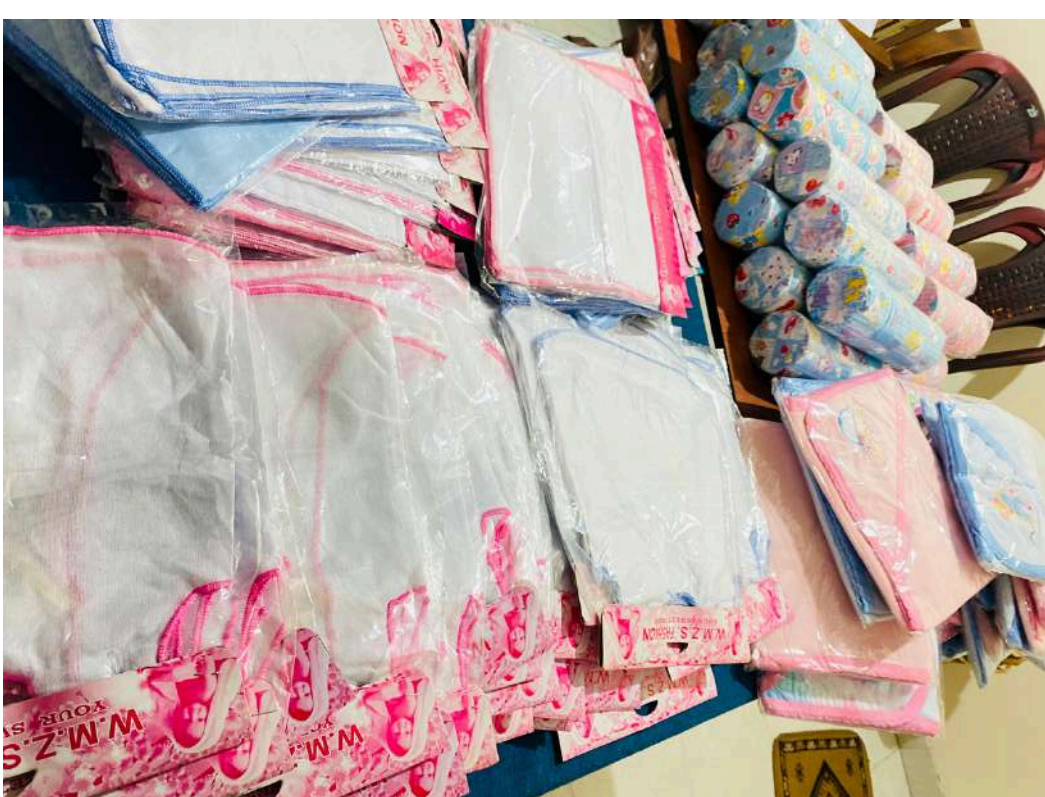

MAATHA 7.0, the latest chapter in this impactful journey, was carried out with a renewed focus on postpartum depression (PPD) with the support of our baby packages partner, “Rebecca Lee”. By combining digital outreach with meaningful, on-ground engagement, the project emphasized awareness, education, and empowerment, ensuring that mothers are not only heard but supported at every step of their journey.

Phase One: Breaking the Silence through Awareness

The first phase of MAATHA 7.0 harnessed the power of digital media to spark important conversations around postpartum depression. A compelling documentary video featuring Dr. Dasanthi Akmeemana, Consultant Psychiatrist at Kalubowila Hospital, was launched via the club’s official YouTube channel.

The documentary shed light on the symptoms, causes, and early warning signs of postpartum depression, while also outlining effective coping strategies and the vital role of family and community support in a mother's mental health journey. With the goal of reaching a broad and diverse audience, this video campaign aimed to destigmatize mental health and encourage early intervention by building awareness that transcends cultural and geographic boundaries.

Phase Two: Compassionate Outreach and Support

On the 23rd of May, the second phase unfolded at the Wadduwa MOH Office, where a hands-on educational and support session was conducted for 25 expectant mothers, identified with the assistance of local midwives. This physical outreach initiative provided a nurturing and inclusive space for these women to learn, connect, and feel empowered.

The session featured two pivotal discussions:

- The first, once again led by Dr. Dasanthi Akmeemana, focused on recognizing and addressing postpartum depression.
- The second, conducted by Dr. Pushpa Anandatilaka, addressed the sensitive but urgent topic of domestic violence, equipping mothers with the knowledge and courage to seek help if needed.

To complement the emotional and educational support, each mother received a carefully curated baby care package, made possible through the generous sponsorship of Rebecca Lee, along with additional donations from dedicated well-wishers. These packages not only provided practical assistance but symbolized community solidarity and care.

In a poignant closing gesture, each mother was gifted a flowering plant, a heartfelt symbol of growth, resilience, and hope, reminding them that their journey through motherhood, while complex, is also beautiful and full of promise.

RED ON HOLD 2.0

Project Red on Hold 2.0 is a compassionate, youth-led community service initiative organized by the Rotaract Club of the Faculty of Law, University of Colombo, in collaboration with the Rotaract Club of NIBM Kandy and the Interact Club of Hillwood College, Kandy. Now being done for the second consecutive year, the project addresses the critical yet often neglected issue of menstrual health and hygiene among underprivileged schoolgirls, particularly in rural communities.

Rooted in the belief that menstruation should never be a barrier to dignity, education, or opportunity, the initiative boldly challenges harmful taboos through awareness, creative expression, and direct action.

Phase One: Social Media Advocacy for Change

The project launched with a powerful social media advocacy campaign, aimed at dismantling stigma and misinformation surrounding menstruation. Throughout April, a series of educational posts and short videos were strategically released across multiple platforms to maintain consistent visibility and impact.

These digital resources tackled myths, misconceptions, and societal taboos, promoting accurate knowledge while fostering an inclusive, respectful conversation around menstrual health. This phase laid a vital foundation for the initiative by engaging a broader audience and amplifying the voices of those too often silenced.

Phase Two: Creativity as a Tool for Awareness

The second phase brought the conversation directly into schools through a creative competition designed to engage students in a meaningful and expressive way. Participants were invited to submit original poems, drawings, or essays reflecting on the theme of menstrual health and hygiene.

This interactive format allowed students to reflect on their experiences and perceptions, encouraging peer-led learning and dialogue. Winning entries were acknowledged and rewarded, reinforcing the importance of open conversations and affirming the creativity and courage of each participant.

Phase Three: Education and Access in Rural Communities

The final phase took a hands-on approach by conducting in-person awareness sessions at a rural school, targeting girls aged 12 to 16. These sessions covered essential topics such as menstrual hygiene, personal care, and emotional well-being, with the goal of empowering students to manage their periods with confidence and dignity.

To complement this educational outreach, sanitary napkins were distributed to approximately 30 girls, directly addressing a pressing material need. The project thus combined knowledge and access, ensuring that these young girls were both informed and equipped.

Pad Bank Initiative: Supporting University Students Year-Round

Recognizing that menstrual health concerns extend beyond school settings, the project also introduced a Pad Bank at the Faculty of Law, University of Colombo. This facility provides free sanitary napkins to university students, refilled monthly for one year to ensure sustained availability.

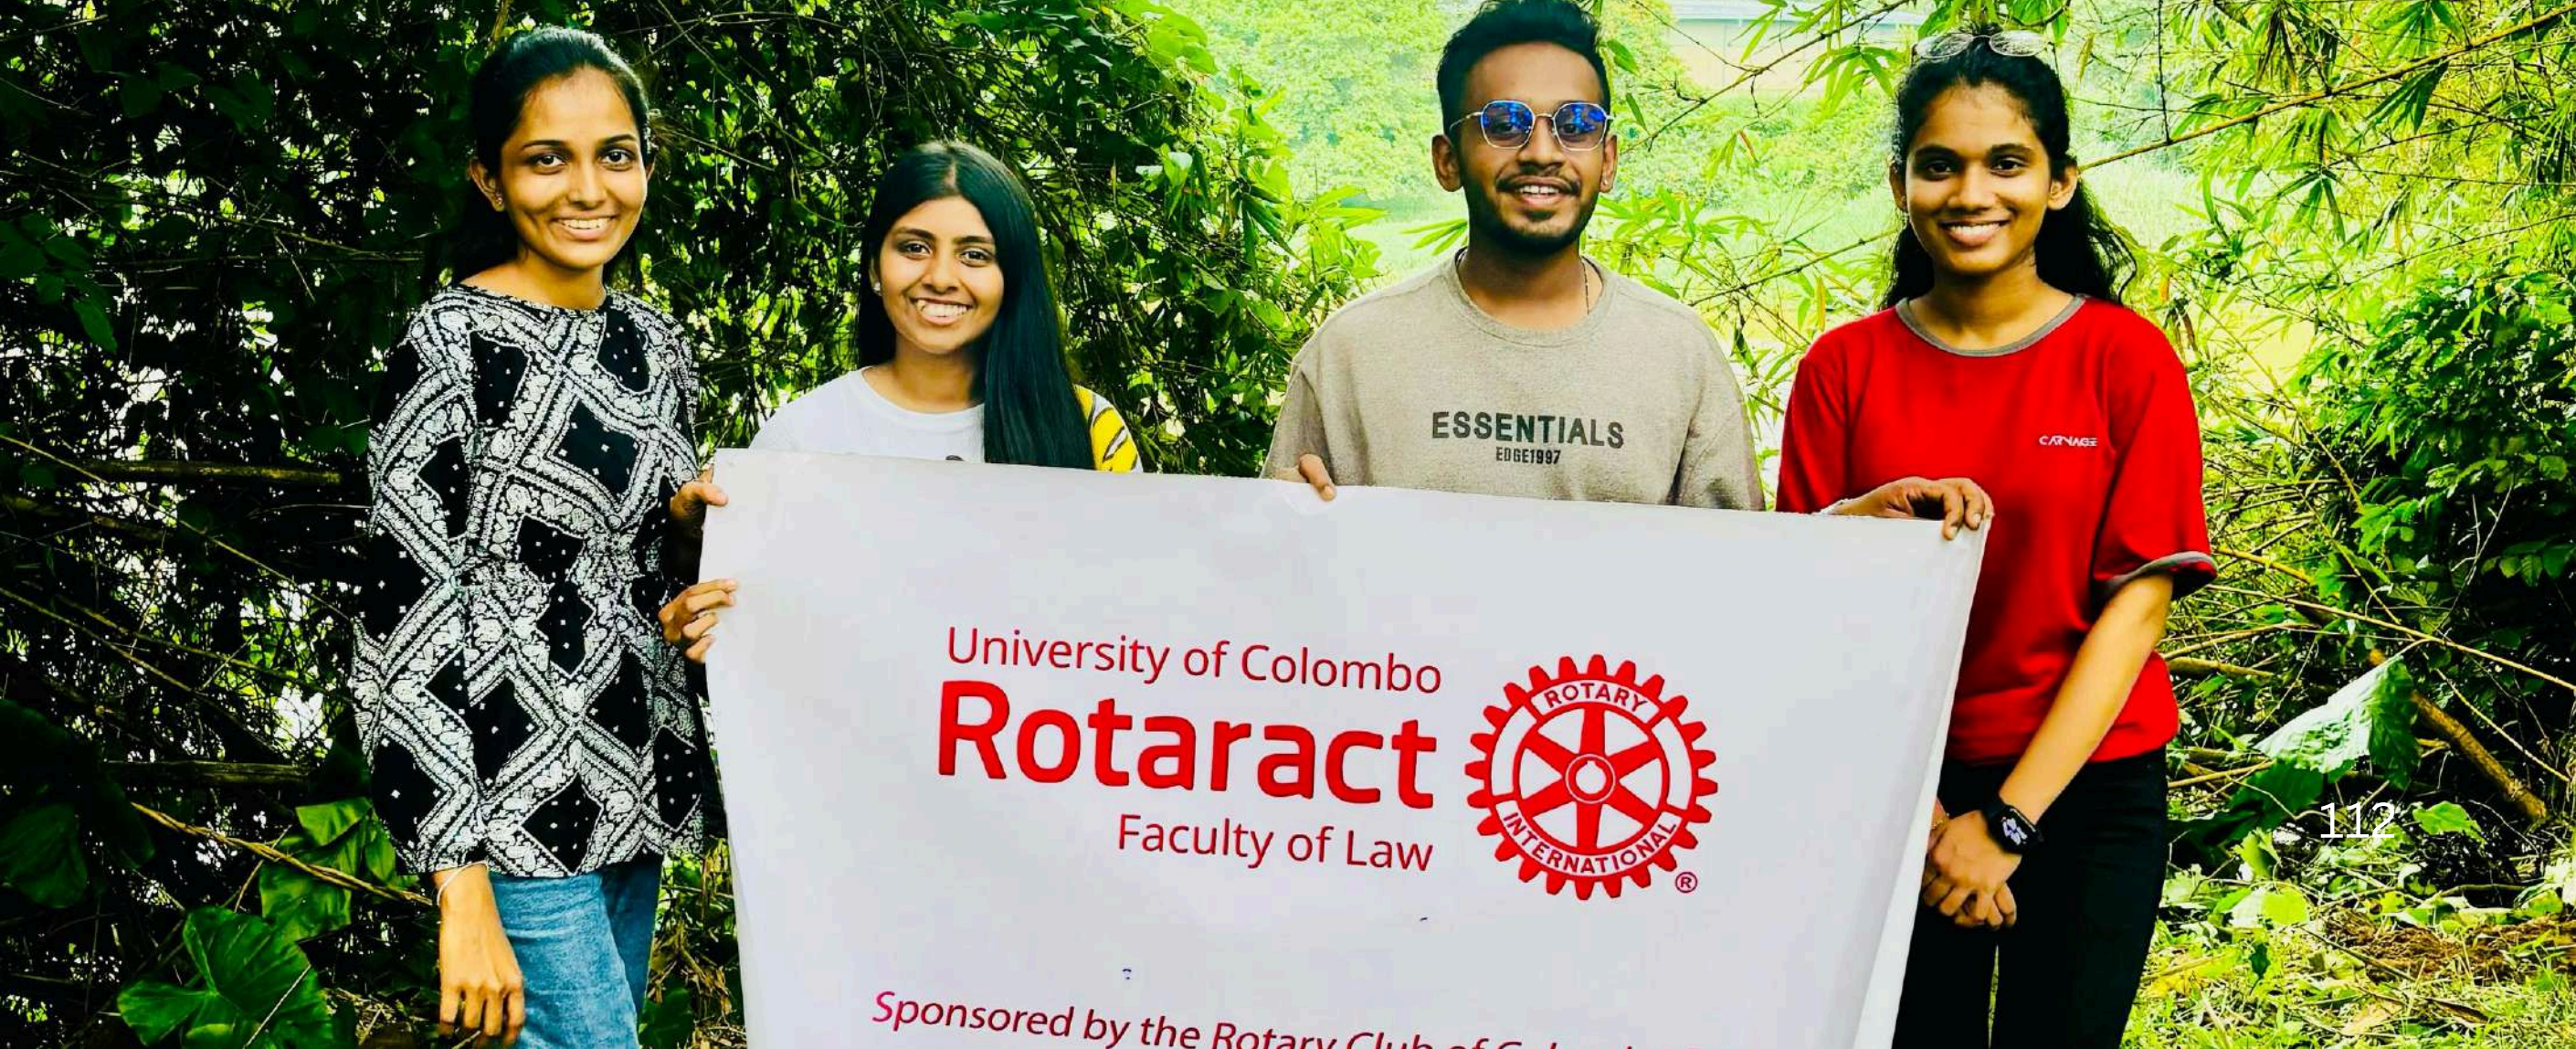

In collaboration with Eva Sri Lanka, the project team is currently working to expand the Pad Bank initiative to all faculties of the University of Colombo. While logistical and administrative steps are underway, the broader rollout is planned for completion within three months, signaling a significant move toward institutional support for menstrual health.

ROOTS

Roots is a transformative environmental initiative dedicated to the restoration and protection of one of Sri Lanka's most precious natural lifelines, the Kelaniya River. At its core, the project champions the planting of Kumbuk trees along the riverbanks, harnessing the species' renowned natural abilities to purify water, prevent soil erosion, and foster healthier aquatic ecosystems.

With rapid industrialization threatening the river's ecological integrity, Roots emerged as a proactive and symbolic effort to heal the environment, raise awareness, and inspire long-term stewardship of our natural resources.

Led by a passionate team of volunteers from the Rotaract Club, Roots embodies a shared commitment to community-led reforestation.

Our dedicated team gathered at a designated site along the Kelaniya River. High-quality Kumbuk saplings, sourced from the Department of Agriculture's Sales Center, were carefully selected for their ecological benefits and high survival rate. While the river's tranquil beauty created a serene backdrop, the hands-on work proved physically demanding. The soft, saturated soil near the riverbank required extra effort and precision to dig deep, stable holes, essential to ensuring the longevity and health of the trees. Despite these challenges, volunteers pressed on with unwavering dedication, driven by a powerful vision: to plant seeds of change today for a healthier tomorrow.

"හරි ලස්සන හදවතක්" was a heartfelt fundraising initiative organized by the Rotaract Club of the Faculty of Law, University of Colombo, with the goal of raising a minimum of LKR 15,000 in support of the Little Hearts Project. This campaign was more than just a financial appeal—it was a call to unity, compassion, and the transformative power of giving.

In Sri Lanka, Congenital Heart Disease (CHD) remains the leading cause of infant mortality, claiming the lives of nearly 10 out of every 1,000 newborns before their first birthday. Thousands of children born with heart defects face the harsh reality of inadequate access to critical care, largely due to the lack of specialized medical infrastructure.

The Little Hearts Project, a nationally recognized initiative, is currently working to bridge this gap by constructing a Cardiac and Critical Care Complex at Lady Ridgeway Hospital (LRH). Once completed, this facility will provide lifesaving treatment to critically ill children across the country, drastically reducing preventable deaths and offering hope to families in need.

This project served as a powerful reminder that even the smallest contributions, when made with heart, can have life-saving impacts.

"හරි ලස්සන හදවතක්" was centered around a multi-pronged fundraising campaign, carefully designed to maximize outreach, participation, and impact:

- A targeted PR campaign was launched to raise awareness about the Little Hearts Project, educating the public on the urgent need for contributions and encouraging widespread support.
- Sticker sales were introduced as a creative and interactive fundraising method, allowing contributors to engage with the cause in a tangible way while spreading the message further.
- Multiple online donation platforms were activated to ensure ease of access and broaden the reach beyond the faculty and university community.

Each batch took on a shared responsibility in the fundraising process, pooling resources, spreading awareness, and encouraging donations within and beyond the university. The result was a moving display of student-led activism and service, rooted in shared values and a commitment to meaningful change.

RACFOL DANSALA' 25

Rotaract Dansala 2025 was a heartwarming initiative organized by the Club Services Avenue of the Rotaract Club of the University of Colombo, held on May 16th, 2025, at the Faculty of Law. Designed to coincide with the sacred celebration of Vesak, this project embodied the essence of selfless giving, bringing the spirit of compassion and community into action

The primary aim of Rotaract Dansala 2025 was to offer free biscuits and drinks to students across the University of Colombo, as a small but meaningful gesture of care and appreciation, especially in recognition of their academic commitments and daily stresses. More than just a food distribution, this project was a symbol of unity, kindness, and spiritual reflection, in line with Vesak's deeper teachings on generosity and humanity.

What made this project truly unique was its execution, from the initial planning stages to the final distribution, members worked hand-in-hand to make the event a success. This internal mobilization fostered stronger bonds among members, enhanced teamwork, and reaffirmed the impact that can be achieved through unity and dedication, even in the absence of financial resources.

Held within the Faculty of Law, the Dansala was warmly received by students and staff alike, creating a joyful and festive atmosphere on campus. It served as a gentle reminder of the power of small acts of kindness and the importance of caring for one another within a larger academic environment.

Rotaract Dansala 2025 was more than a Vesak celebration, it was a living expression of the Rotaract spirit. By combining heartfelt giving with student-led initiative, the project showcased how even the simplest gestures, when rooted in compassion, can leave a lasting impression on a community.

Through this impactful initiative clubs set a strong precedent for what collaborative, youth-driven advocacy can achieve in pursuit of a more equitable, inclusive, and just world.

A House of Misery

A child so grim,
 Bottling up all his childish whim
 And my heart aches for him.
 Pain stacking up in a pile,
 Yet he goes through misery with a smile.
 There's so much left for him to see in the world,
 Yet somehow, he seems to have seen it all.
 Abusive words, accusations, for the simplest of wrongs,
 Vanishes instantly, them innocent hopes.
 His life's full of not ups but slopes,
 To a house of misery, he belongs.

This creative venture was designed to celebrate artistic expression, cultural diversity, and global unity through the timeless power of poetry.

Spanning from March 8th to May 2nd, 2025, the project invited aspiring and established poets from around the world to submit original works for a virtual poetry competition, culminating in the publication of a beautifully curated digital poetry journal. With the theme of unity through creativity.

Virtual Poetry Competition: A Platform for Global Expression

The competition officially launched on March 14th, 2025, with detailed competition guidelines shared across social media platforms. Open for submissions until March 29th, it attracted a wide range of poetic voices, each piece reflecting a distinct worldview, emotion, or story.

To ensure thoughtful and fair evaluation, the submitted poems were reviewed by a distinguished two-member judging panel:

- Mrs. Apsara Bandara – Esteemed English Teacher, Teacher Educator, and Visiting Lecturer

Beyond the competition, Project Inkspire's hallmark is the creation of a digital poetry journal, a living archive of every poem submitted. This journal, launched after the competition's conclusion, serves not just as a showcase of talent, but as a tribute to the global spirit of creativity and connection.

The publication embodies the project's core mission: to highlight diverse voices, foster empathy through literature, and create a shared artistic legacy accessible to all.

Rooted in the belief that every child deserves access to quality education, this project is dedicated to bridging educational disparities by donating essential school supplies to under-resourced schools across the three regions.

Taking place from May 16th to May 24th, 2025, the project serves as a powerful testament to how collective goodwill and cross-border collaboration can sow the seeds of hope, opportunity, and empowerment in the hearts of young learners.

At its core, Hope in Bloom strives to remove barriers to learning by providing vital resources, such as stationery, books, and other educational materials, to students who might otherwise struggle to access them. By equipping these children with the tools they need, the project not only supports academic development but also nurtures self-confidence, motivation, and long-term aspirations.

“YouthVote: Make it Count “

YouthVote is a dynamic civic engagement initiative collaboratively organized by the Rotaract Club of the Faculty of Law, University of Colombo, and the Rotaract Club of Colombo West. Rooted in the belief that youth voices matter, the project aimed to motivate and mobilize young Sri Lankans to participate in the 2024 presidential election scheduled for September 21st, 2024.

This timely initiative was developed in response to mounting concerns from governmental and non-governmental studies that highlighted a troubling trend: declining voter turnout among young citizens. Recognizing the urgent need to reverse this pattern, YouthVote: Make it Count was designed to raise awareness, educate, and empower youth to embrace their civic responsibility.

he project was executed across three carefully crafted phases, each targeting a different dimension of youth political engagement:

Phase 1 – Awareness through Digital Outreach

A compelling public relations campaign was launched on Instagram and Facebook, focusing on why voting matters, especially for young people.

Phase 2 – Education through Dialogue

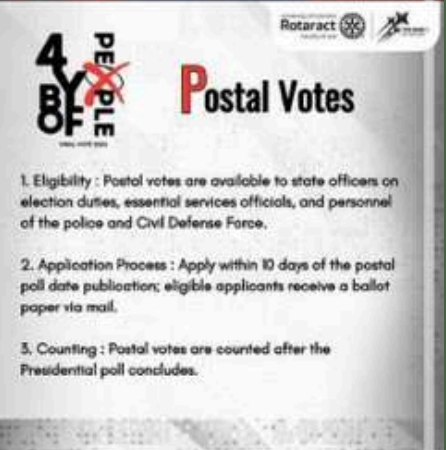

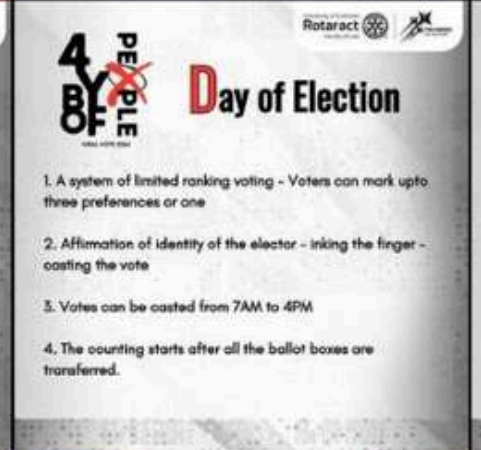

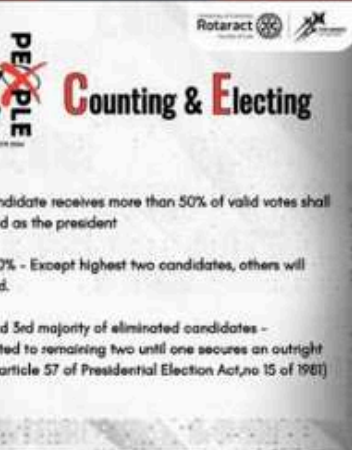

To further deepen understanding, a panel discussion was hosted featuring Mr. Dilan Rathnayaka, Senior Lecturer at the University of Sri Jayewardenepura. The session explored key election issues, the role of informed voting, and how young voters can meaningfully engage with the democratic process.

Phase 3 – Inspiration through Peer Action

On election day, the campaign took an interactive turn with a real-time Instagram Story series. Young voters were encouraged to share photos of themselves casting their votes, tagging the campaign and spreading a ripple effect of civic pride.

Significance of Parliamentary Elections in Sri Lanka's Representative Democracy

YOUTHVOTE

ElectNext is a dynamic initiative spearheaded by the Rotaract Club of the Faculty of Law, University of Colombo, under the Avenue of Professional Development. With the 2024 Sri Lankan parliamentary elections on the horizon, this project was launched with a vision to educate, engage, and empower young voters, particularly university students, by enhancing their understanding of the country's electoral framework and encouraging meaningful participation in the democratic process.

The project unfolded in three carefully curated phases, each designed to progressively build voter literacy and enthusiasm. The first phase, conducted from October 28th to November 12th, 2024, focused on a strategic social media awareness campaign. The campaign featured engaging posts, videos, infographics and blog articles that simplified complex electoral and legislative concepts. By breaking down Sri Lanka's parliamentary structure, voting procedures, and electoral laws into accessible, visually appealing content, this phase aimed to make civic education relatable and digestible for youth audiences.

The second phase took the initiative from screen to experience with a parliamentary visit, offering participants a rare and immersive opportunity to witness democracy in action. This visit was structured to provide a practical understanding of how Parliament functions, fostering an appreciation for legislative processes and the importance of citizen participation in shaping national policy. Observing real-time parliamentary proceedings and interacting with the institutional environment helped bridge the gap between theoretical knowledge and real-world governance.

The final phase culminated in an awareness session held on November 6th, 2024, at the Faculty of Law, University of Colombo. This interactive session was designed to deepen engagement and inspire critical thinking among students. It featured Dr. Mahesh Senanayake, a renowned expert in electoral behavior and political studies, as the keynote speaker. Dr. Senanayake delivered a compelling discourse on the significance of elections, the psychological and social drivers of voter behavior, and the crucial role youth play in upholding democratic values. The session also provided a platform for open dialogue, where students could voice their concerns, ask questions, and reflect on their role in shaping Sri Lanka's democratic future.

Together, these three interconnected phases formed a cohesive and impactful campaign that not only disseminated information but also cultivated a sense of civic duty and political agency among young Sri Lankans. By combining digital outreach, experiential learning, and scholarly dialogue, ElectNext'24 set out to transform passive observers into active, informed participants in the 2024 parliamentary elections, laying the groundwork for a more engaged and responsible electorate.

BEHIND THE BARS

“Every Crime Has a Cell Waiting.”

Behind the Bars was a powerful two-phased awareness initiative organized under the Professional Development Avenue by the Rotaract Club of the Faculty of Law, University of Colombo. Designed to deepen understanding of Sri Lanka’s prison system and humanize the criminal justice experience, the project aimed to offer law students an immersive and thought-provoking look into incarceration, justice, and rehabilitation. More than just a legal or academic exercise, Behind the Bars was a journey into the heart of a system often viewed through a lens of judgment rather than empathy.

Phase One: Welikada Prison Visit – A Glimpse Beyond the Walls

Held on May 9, 2025, Phase 1 featured a rare, guided visit to Welikada Prison the largest and most historically significant correctional facility in Sri Lanka. After a rigorous process of securing permissions, over 50 law students were granted access to explore both male and female wards, offering a firsthand encounter with the day-to-day reality of life behind bars.

The visit shed light on the structured routines, physical conditions, and emotional states of inmates.

For many participants, it was a confronting and eye-opening experience, one that challenged preconceived notions about crime and punishment. The environment told silent stories of broken pasts, institutional limitations, and the complex human identities behind criminal records. What emerged was a profound realization: prisoners are not just statistics, they are people with histories, regrets, and, in some cases, hope. (We weren’t allowed to take pictures inside the prison because of high security).

Phase Two: Through My Eyes – 4 Walls, 4 Lines

Building on the emotional impact of the visit, Phase 2 invited participants to channel their reflections into art. Under the theme “Through My Eyes: 4 Walls, 4 Lines,” students were encouraged to express their impressions in the form of four-line poems. These poems, short yet striking, explored themes of justice, isolation, regret, hope, and the human spirit. They were shared through the project’s social media platforms.

Behind the Bars was a transformative human experience. It invited law students to step beyond theory and confront the realities of incarceration with compassion and critical thought.

AN INITIATIVE BY THE ROTARACT CLUBS OF FACULTY OF SCIENCE UNIVERSITY OF COLOMBO, FACULTY OF ARTS UNIVERSITY OF COLOMBO, FACULTY OF LAW UNIVERSITY OF COLOMBO, FACULTY OF MEDICINE UNIVERSITY OF COLOMBO AND UNIVERSITY OF COLOMBO SCHOOL OF COMPUTING

Recognizing a significant gap in awareness about the educational and service-based funding opportunities available through Rotary, Project EduFund was conceptualized as a transformative knowledge-sharing initiative. It aimed to empower Rotaractors with comprehensive insights into Rotary Grants and Scholarships, enabling them to make the most of these valuable resources for academic advancement and community impact. This pioneering initiative was spearheaded through the collaborative efforts of all Rotaract Clubs of the University of Colombo, and extended to benefit Rotaractors across Rotaract District 3220.

Planning for EduFund commenced on March 23, 2025, with the goal of developing a structured and accessible guide to the often complex landscape of Rotary funding. The first joint planning meeting, held on March 27, 2025, served as a critical foundation for the project. Key discussions revolved around defining clear objectives, choosing between a physical or virtual format, identifying knowledgeable guest speakers, and assigning roles to ensure smooth execution. The team prioritized creating a cohesive and inclusive event that would resonate with a wide audience of Rotaractors.

By segmenting the content clearly, the session ensured that participants walked away with actionable insights tailored to their respective interests.

The Session: A Virtual Gateway to Opportunity

After careful scheduling, the event was officially set for April 17, 2025, at 7:00 P.M., to be conducted virtually via Google Meet, maximizing accessibility across the district. Two highly esteemed speakers were invited to lead the session:

- ADRC Rtn. Mindula Perera – Assistant District Rotaract Chair, who brought in-depth knowledge on the structure, eligibility criteria, and application processes of Rotary Grants.
- PHF Rtn. Rtr. PP Jude Shannon – A Past President and Paul Harris Fellow, recognized for his practical expertise in securing and managing Rotary Scholarships, as well as his lived experience as a scholarship recipient.

Their collective experience provided attendees with not only technical information but also real-world strategies for success, making the session highly valuable for both clubs and individuals.

EduFund succeeded in its core mission—to equip Rotaractors with the knowledge, confidence, and tools to leverage Rotary’s global network of grants and scholarships. By demystifying application processes and highlighting the real potential of these funding streams, the initiative has laid the groundwork for future service projects and educational journeys to be built on stronger foundations.

BEYOND FILTERS

"Beyond Filters" was an insightful and forward-thinking initiative organized by the Rotaract Club of the Faculty of Law, University of Colombo, designed to enhance public relations skills and digital literacy among youth across Sri Lanka. Recognizing the growing influence of digital communication in both personal and professional spaces, the project aimed to equip participants with the essential tools to navigate and thrive in today's media-driven world.

Conducted entirely in a virtual format, the project unfolded in two main phases, a two-day online workshop followed by an engaging content creation and PR competition. The digital nature of the initiative not only ensured wide accessibility but also encouraged active participation from individuals across all regions of the country, regardless of geographical limitations.

Phase 1: A Two-Day Virtual Workshop

The workshop was designed as a comprehensive learning experience covering key areas of content creation, strategic communication, and modern public relations practices. To deliver high-value insights, the Rotaract Club invited seasoned professionals and industry experts who brought with them a wealth of real-world experience and technical knowledge. Interactive segments and live Q&A sessions allowed for deeper engagement, making the workshop not just informative, but also highly participatory and reflective of the latest industry trends.

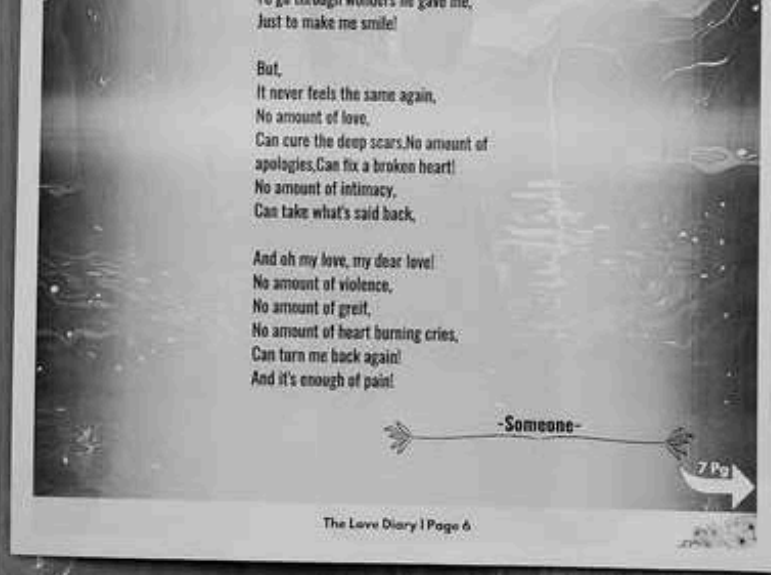

Phase 2: Content Creation and PR Competition

Following the knowledge-sharing sessions, participants were invited to put their skills to the test in a competitive challenge that encouraged them to apply what they had learned. This phase was designed to stimulate creativity, strategic thinking, and teamwork, offering participants a practical platform to experiment with their ideas and receive constructive feedback.

Submissions were evaluated by professionals based on creativity, relevance, communication effectiveness, and impact, further reinforcing the importance of real-world application in learning.

The project successfully bridged the gap between theoretical knowledge and real-world application, empowering youth to take control of their narratives and communicate more effectively and responsibly in the digital space.

LOVE DIARY

“A Celebration of Love in All Its Forms”

"The Love Diary" was a soulful and evocative initiative organized by the Rotaract Club of the Faculty of Law, University of Colombo, designed to create a safe, expressive space for individuals to share their experiences of love, in its most tender, raw, and powerful forms. It invited the community to explore love's complexities, vulnerabilities, and silent truths through storytelling, poetry, and performance, crafting a rich emotional tapestry that resonated deeply with all who engaged with it.

Launched in July 2024, the project unfolded in two memorable phases:

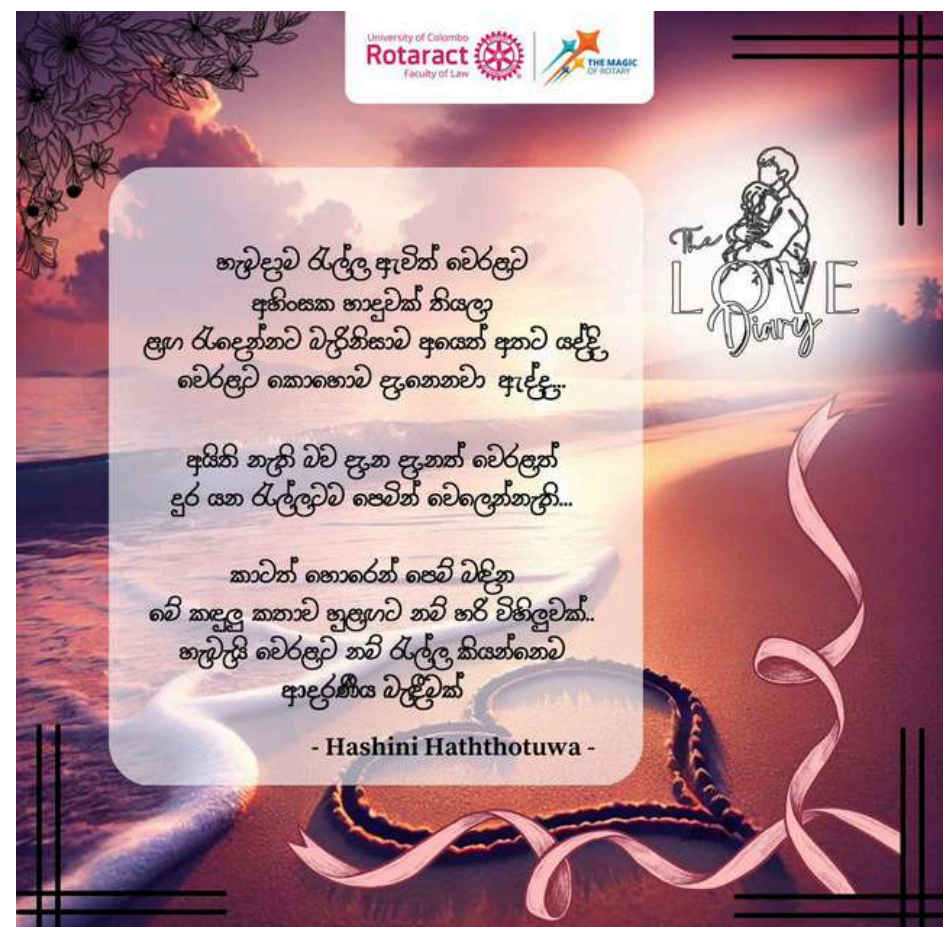

- A digital platform that featured monthly e-magazines and an emotional video series
- A grand physical event, “HUGS by The Love Diary”—a symphonic celebration of love under the stars.

Phase 1: Monthly E-Magazine Series – Love in Words

Between July 2024 and February 2025, The Love Diary invited individuals to submit love letters, poems, and short stories, anonymously or otherwise, via an open Google Form. These heartfelt submissions, whether tales of unrequited affection, mutual connection, or long-lost love, captured the richness and vulnerability of human emotion.

Each month, these submissions were carefully curated and transformed into visually captivating content for the club's official blog, resulting in four beautifully compiled e-magazines. These editions resonated deeply within and beyond the Faculty of Law, expanding the club's reach and solidifying its image as a creative and emotionally intelligent brand. The project became a gentle yet powerful beacon for those who needed a space to voice their emotions.

The Love Diary Video Series – Love in Motion

Adding a compelling audiovisual dimension, The Love Diary launched a dedicated YouTube series, telling the story of a young university couple. The episodic series, serving both as a promotional campaign for the upcoming HUGS concert and as a standalone narrative, quickly became the heart of the project. Each episode garnered 1,000 to 2,000 views, with active engagement from viewers who eagerly awaited the next release and frequently shared feedback.

More than just a narrative, the video series gave life to the everyday emotional journeys of students, helping the audience relate, reflect, and express themselves more freely. It transformed the initiative from a passive viewing experience into a dynamic emotional conversation that connected hearts across campuses.

Phase 2: HUGS by The Love Diary – A Symphonic Night of Love

Culminating the digital journey, "HUGS by The Love Diary" was held on March 27, 2025, from 5:00 PM to 8:00 PM at Misaraya (Pyramid Area), University of Colombo. This ethereal celebration was more than an event, it was an emotional crescendo, a tribute to love in its purest, most beautiful form. It became alive with live singing performances and dances of the faculty students.

The real magic came from the audience, the university community that embraced the night with open hearts. Familiar faces lit by stage lights, swaying bodies dancing to shared memories, and contagious laughter turned HUGS into a living, breathing celebration of human connection.

As the concert drew to a close, the evening culminated in a breathtaking Sky Lantern Ceremony.

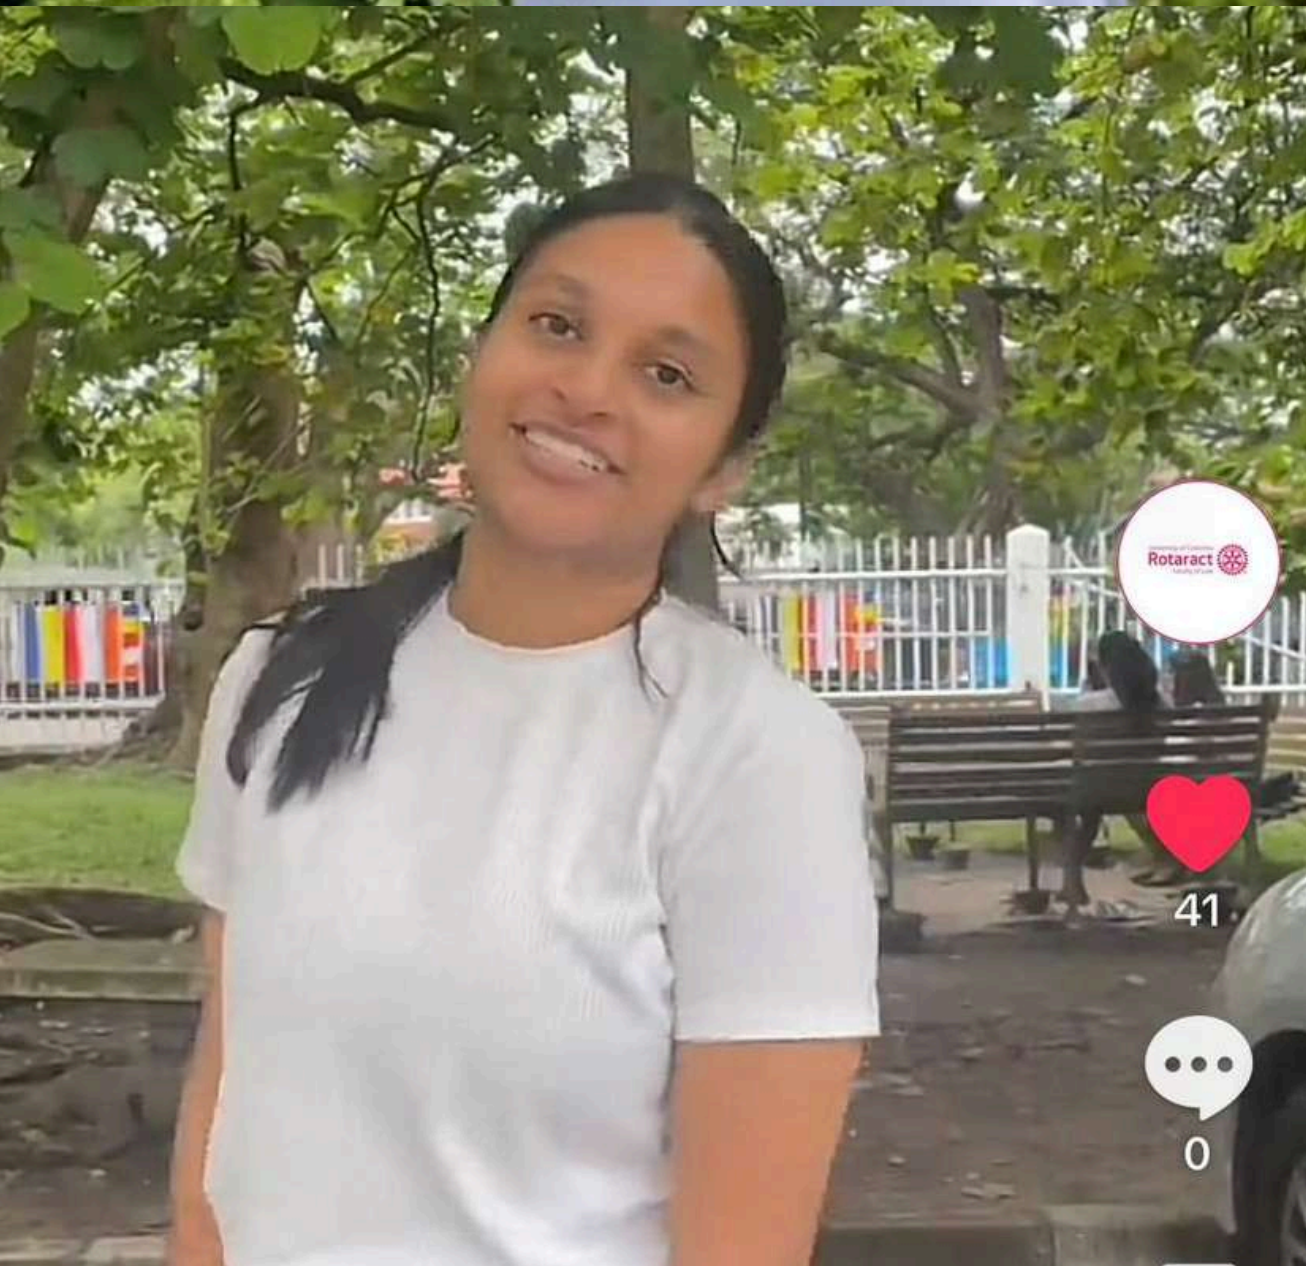

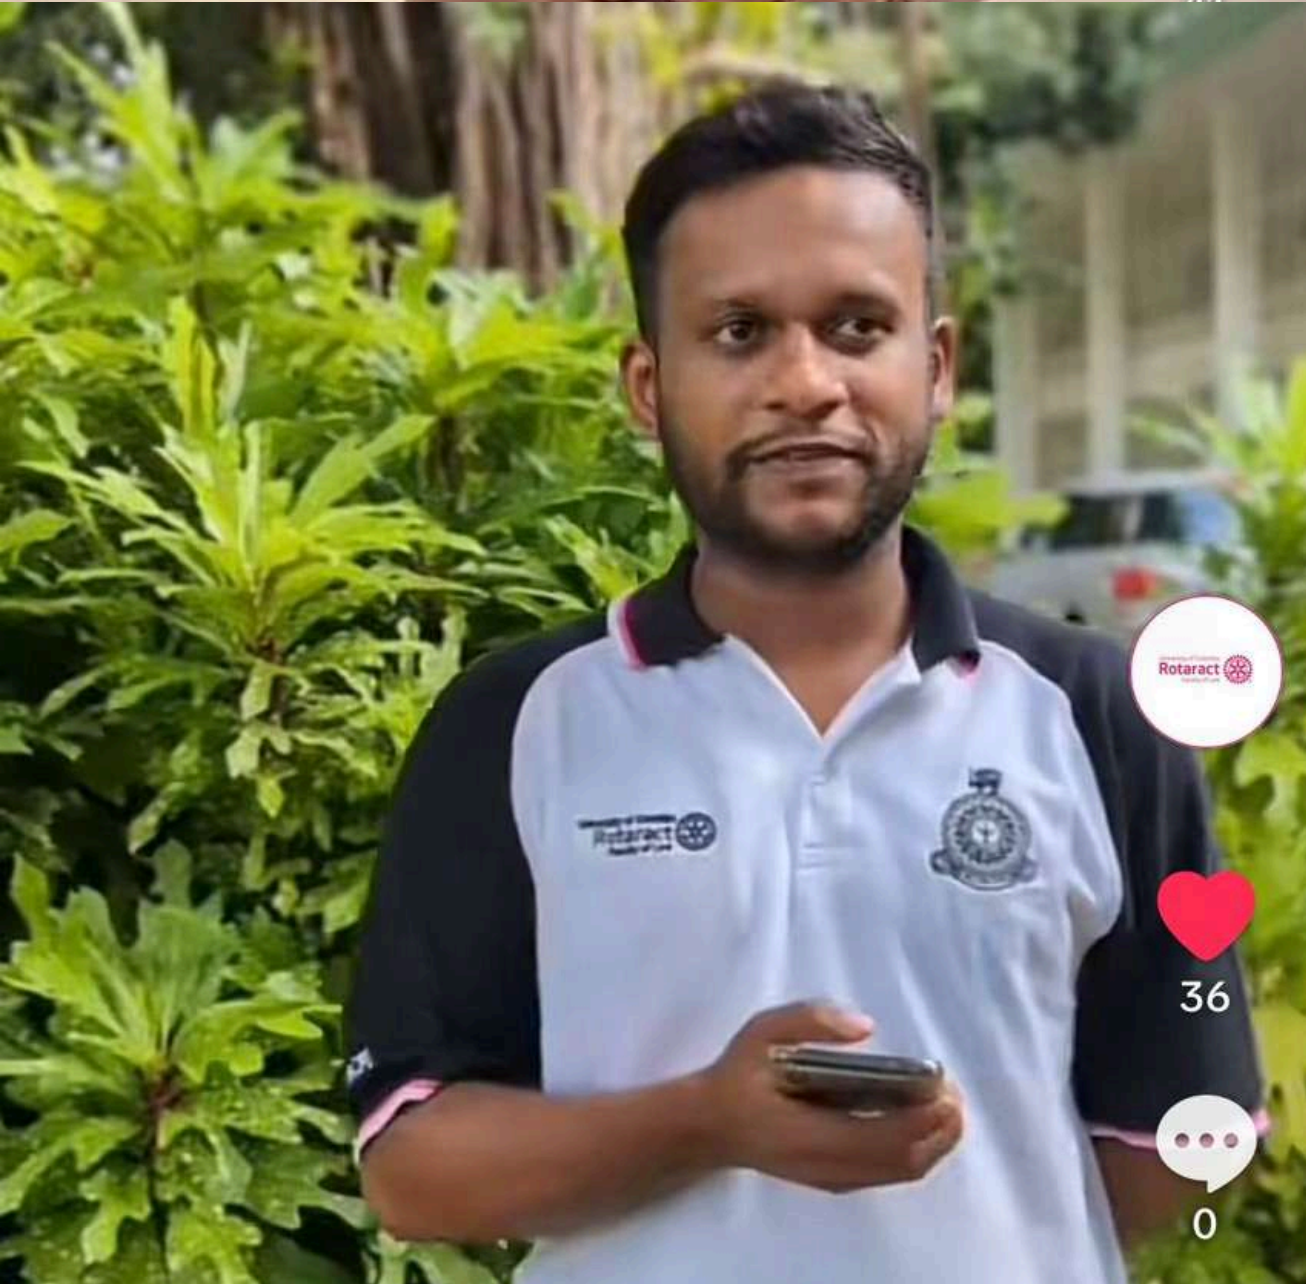

One by one, lanterns were released into the sky, their soft glow painting hues of gold, pink, and orange against the night. Floating gently upwards, each lantern carried hopes, unspoken feelings, and dreams, illuminating the sky with love and peace.

A special moment during the event was dedicated to recognizing the creative minds behind the success of The Love Diary video series. Two exceptional individuals, who brought life and color to the project through every visual and every post, were honored for their passion, dedication, and artistic vision. Their work allowed the project to blossom far beyond its original scope, creating lasting emotional impact.

The Love Diary was more than a project, it was an emotional movement. It gave voice to the silent, comfort to the vulnerable, and celebration to the beautiful complexities of love. Through words, music, movement, and storytelling, it brought an entire community closer to their emotions and to each other. Moreover, it was a platform to release the academic stress of the law faculty students.

It reminded us all that love is not just a feeling it's a story worth telling, a note worth playing, a step worth dancing, and a light worth releasing into the sky.

The Rotaract Club of the Faculty of Law, University of Colombo extends its service beyond traditional boundaries, engaging not only in community outreach and professional development but also in fostering camaraderie and wellness among its own members. In line with this vision, Beat The Stumps '25 was organized as a spirited recreational initiative aimed at promoting relaxation, fellowship, and a much-needed break from academic rigors.

Held on the 14th of May 2025 at the University Sports Grounds, the event kicked off at 12:00 PM and continued until 3:30 PM, bringing together Rotaractors and students of the Faculty of Law for an afternoon of lively competition and meaningful bonding.

At the heart of the event was a thrilling cricket tournament, structured as a round-robin league featuring three energetic teams. The matches were packed with excitement, laughter, and plenty of unforgettable moments. From fierce bowling spells to spectacular catches and joyous celebrations, every over was a testament to the participants' team spirit and enthusiasm.

The format encouraged inclusive participation, allowing both seasoned players and enthusiastic first-timers to take part, regardless of experience. The cricket ground turned into a space where stress was bowled out, friendships were forged, and the spirit of sportsmanship reigned supreme.

Beat The Stumps '25 was more than just a sporting event, it was an opportunity for students to connect beyond lecture halls and committee rooms. It reinforced the values of teamwork, healthy competition, and mental well-being. By stepping away from academic pressures and into the joy of play, participants rediscovered the balance between productivity and personal well-being.

The success of Beat The Stumps '25 highlighted the importance of incorporating recreational activities into the club's calendar. It not only reenergized members but also reinforced a sense of unity and belonging within the faculty. As much as the event was about cricket, it was also about celebrating connection, creating memories, and embracing the joy of togetherness.

SLAMM' 25

SLAMM '25 marked the exhilarating return of one of the most anticipated events on the University of Colombo's Rotaract calendar, an interfaculty scavenger hunt organized collaboratively by the six Rotaract Clubs of the university, representing the Faculties of Science, Law, Arts, Management, Medicine, and the School of Computing.

Held within the familiar yet ever-surprising grounds of the university, SLAMM is more than just a game, it's a vibrant, high-energy celebration of fellowship, physical activity, mental agility, and emotional wellness, championed under the Sports and Recreational Avenue of Rotaract.

Blending physical tasks with intellectual riddles, SLAMM pushes participants to move, think, and collaborate. Teams race against time, decoding clues, solving puzzles, and overcoming movement-based challenges that demand creativity, cooperation, and quick thinking. This event offers a rare platform for cross-faculty connection, allowing undergraduates from diverse academic backgrounds to form bonds outside traditional classroom boundaries.

Participants leave not only with laughter and memories but also with strengthened interpersonal skills, sharpened problem-solving abilities, and revitalized mental clarity.

This year, the PR campaign followed a yellow color theme, a deliberate and symbolic choice due to its Psychologically ties to positivity, vitality, energy, and mental alertness. It served as the perfect visual anchor for an initiative aimed at recreation, rejuvenation, and joy. From posters to participant badges, the cheerful spirit created a vibrant atmosphere that mirrored the spirit of the event and uplifted every corner of the campus it touched.

At its core, SLAMM '25 aligns seamlessly with the objectives of the Sports and Recreational Avenue, which prioritizes not only physical well-being but also mental and emotional balance. On the event day the participants had to run around the university, visiting each faculty, looking for clues and participating in fun challenges on the way. Which is clearly why SLAMM isn't just a scavenger hunt, it's a dynamic platform for personal growth, peer connection, and holistic well-being, carefully curated within a framework of structured play and communal engagement.

SLAMM '25 was a resounding success in reinvigorating the Rotaract community with energy, enthusiasm, and esprit de corps. Through games that made hearts race and riddles that tickled minds, the project proved that fun and wellness can go hand in hand. As it continues to evolve, SLAMM will remain a flagship event of not only movement and mystery but also of connection, community, and care, one scavenger hunt at a time.

SOCIAL MEDIA

The Rotaract Club of Faculty Law, University of Colombo aims to serve the community through various projects and initiatives. However, for these efforts to reach their full potential, effective communication and public relations strategies are crucial. The club's public relations strategy focuses on building strong relationships with its target audience, which includes students, faculty members and the wider community. To achieve this goal, the club has developed an active media relations strategy, which involves regular communication with our target audiences of various projects to publicize activities undertaken by the club. The Club's Public Relations efforts span to over six platforms of Facebook, Instagram, LinkedIn, YouTube, Twitter and TikTok. Therefore, building a solid brand image through these specific platforms was given priority. Facebook and WhatsApp were used to share all project fliers, videos, and blogs, while Instagram posts were saved for exceptional events. In addition, the audiences on LinkedIn, YouTube, and the Club Blog were also reached through those media.

INSTAGRAM

Instagram was the primary social media platform used by the club to reach our main audience; the young adult and university populace. The initiatives from previous years were extended on this platform and the PR Directors took the responsibility of sharing relevant content, including stories, videos, and live posts, whenever it was deemed necessary. The Instagram feed was utilized to showcase special photos and videos of ongoing projects, while important project flyers that needed wider visibility were posted on Stories. This approach ensured that the target audience remained engaged and informed about the organization's activities on Instagram. Instagram was vital to carrying out several awareness projects such as Senehase Naagam, MAATHA 7.0, ElectNext, Million Reasons to Rotaract, etc. In this year, almost all of the project had a social media campaign and the committees conducted creative promotional/awareness campaign enhancing the audience connected via Instagram. The target audience was easily reached through the platform, and the regular posts kept the club account engaging and interesting.

FACEBOOK

The Club Facebook page is one of the main media through which the club maintains contact with the public. Project flyers, project videos, celebration posts, special achievements are shared on this platform. The official Facebook page was also utilized to broadcast special virtual through the Facebook Live facility. Facebook was a great help for fund raising and collecting sponsorships for service projects. The page was maintained to build connections with the University pages and other Rotaract clubs

WHATSAPP

WhatsApp groups are the main mode of communication between the organizing committees and general members. Numerous WhatsApp groups were created for projects. General Members could join projects via their respective WhatsApp group open to the public. Furthermore, the Board of Directors gained the opportunity to actively engaged in Rotaract WhatsApp groups that share important messages and coordinate with other. Auxiliary features such as WhatsApp Broadcast and Statuses were fully utilized to great effect.

X AND LINKEDIN

Twitter & LinkedIn were largely used to communicate with corporate and professional audiences. These platforms were particularly effective in promoting webinars, which served as a means to share information about flagship projects such as 'Lawyer Up and Newbie Induction' and engage the target audience in the organization's initiatives. Though Instagram and Facebook were the clubs primary modes of maintaining public image, these two platforms greatly supplemented our Public Relations effort. Mainly through targeting a different audience as opposed to Instagram and Facebook.

TIKTOK

Throughout the year, the club has been diligent in posting videos for some of its meetings and projects, notably launching video series for two major initiatives: Love Diary and ElectNext. These series have been key in showcasing the club's activities and engaging a wider audience. They not only served as promotional tools but also created an ongoing narrative that kept viewers informed and engaged with the club's endeavors.

However, creating TikTok content has not been without challenges. The club struggled with securing active participation for the videos and coordinating schedules. To enhance our TikTok presence moving forward, the club plans to increase the frequency of posts and ensure content creation for all projects, focusing on both quality and quantity to boost engagement. Recent TikTok analytics indicated a decrease in views, profile visits, and likes, suggesting a need to revisit and refine our content strategy to increase engagement. Nonetheless, there was a notable increase in content shares, highlighting that our videos are compelling enough for viewers to share them, thus expanding our reach. Overall, the Rotaract Club's TikTok account has become a dynamic platform for engagement and promotion. Moving forward, the club aims to address current challenges and enhance content strategies to achieve greater success and impact through its TikTok presence in the coming year.

YOUTUBE CHANNEL

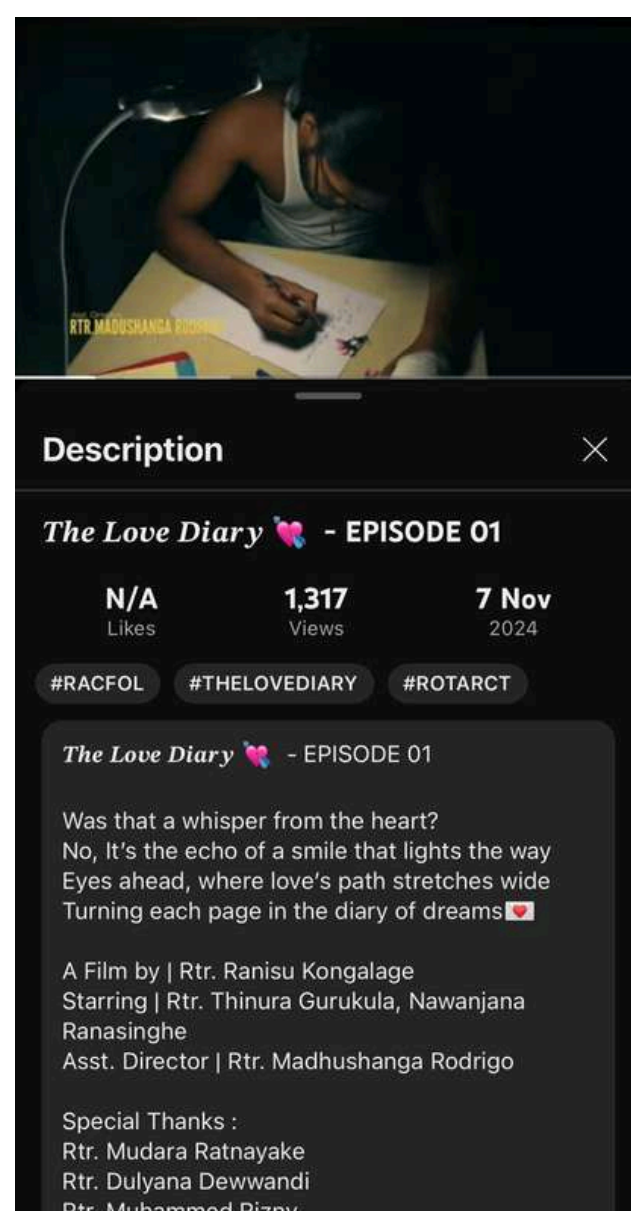

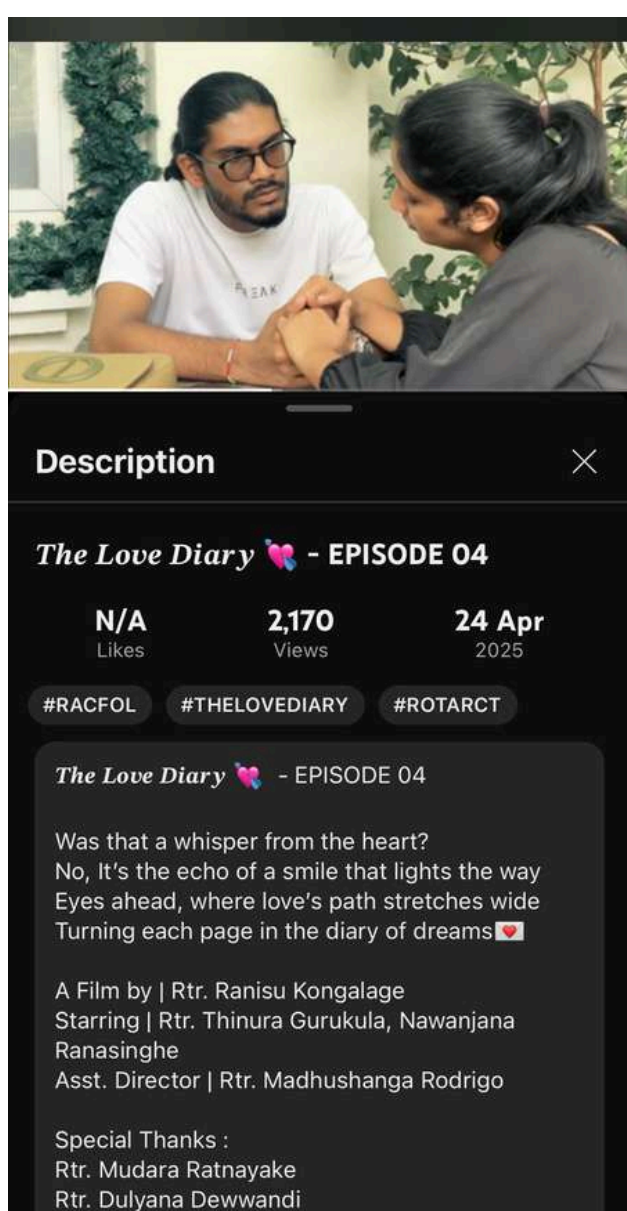

Throughout the year, the official YouTube channel of the Rotaract Club of the Faculty of Law, University of Colombo, has maintained a focused yet impactful presence by spotlighting the club's most prominent digital storytelling initiatives. Chief among these is the Love Diary video series, a project that stands out not just for its emotional resonance, but for its viewer engagement as well. Each episode in the series, crafted with a narrative portraying young university love and emotional depth, has consistently drawn between 1,000 and 2,000 views, making it the channel's most successful and widely-viewed content to date.

This strong reception was further reinforced by enthusiastic responses on other platforms, including Facebook, where the final event "HUGS" was met with widespread praise. The Love Diary's success reflects the club's strength in producing heartfelt, relatable content that speaks to the youth audience.

ElectNext, another key project mentioned in club media, was also published as a youtube series of 5 videos in all 3 languages. This was based on an educational opportunity for those interested in learning about the parliamentary processes and its structure.

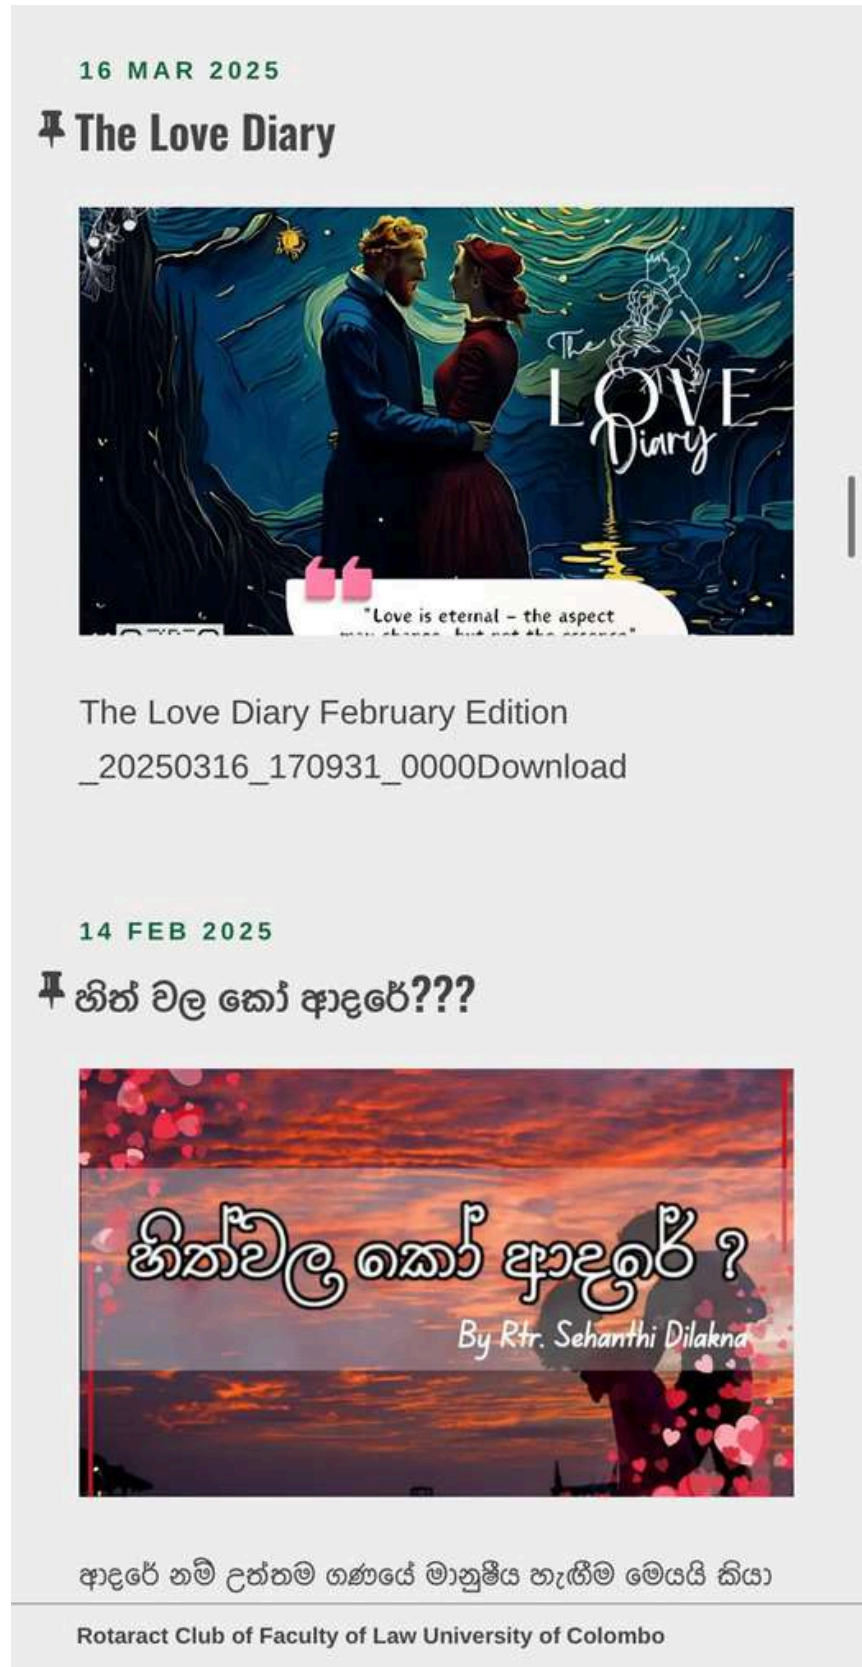

Viewer interaction in the form of likes, shares, and comments suggests an engaged and emotionally connected audience.

CLUB BLOG

In the 2024–25 Rotaract year, the club blog witnessed a remarkable leap in content creation and engagement, with 24 new articles and posts added to the platform, a significant increase from the 17 published the previous year. This surge in contribution reflects not only the blog’s expanding relevance but also the growing passion of RACFOL’s members to use their voices and legal education for greater societal impact.

This year’s publications spanned a wide range of themes, from social justice and women’s rights to personal stories, reflections, and community outreach experiences. Each article contributed a distinct perspective, written with sensitivity, clarity, and a commitment to truth and transformation.

In addition to analytical and advocacy-based articles, the blog also captured the emotional richness of RACFOL’s signature initiatives, such as The Love Diary, Senehase Nagam, and community outreach visits, documenting them in evocative and heartfelt prose. Posts like “FROM LAUGHTER TO HUGS: A DAY TO REMEMBER”, “Hearts Connected Across Generations”, and “A Heartwarming Visit to Karuna Elders Home” exemplified the human side of Rotaract, filled with compassion, warmth, and storytelling.

This year’s growth reflects not only the increasing digital literacy and engagement of members but also the expanding scope of issues the club dares to explore courageously with purpose.

Dear Rtr. Subhanya Perera,

Thank you for sending the revised accounts. I appreciate your promptness in addressing the feedback and incorporating the necessary details.

The Rotary Club of Excellence (RCE) does not formally sign, certify, or endorse unaudited financial statements for Rotaract clubs. This is due to the limited review time, which prevents a comprehensive audit of all transactional details before RCE inspection.

However, based on our observations, the updated accounts align with Rotary International standards and show sufficient transparency for your annual report submission.

Thank you again for your hard work and understanding.

Best Regards,

Dr. Deemanthe Weerasuriya (MD KSMU RU)
